Three Youths Die In Fiery Crash Of Auto

CAMPBELL — Three Campbell boys were burned to death after the trio was trapped in a car which overtuned on an embankment at 1:43 a.m. today.

Killed were Garold Dewayne White, 17, Earl Leroy Dickens, 20, and James Donald Summers, 17.

The fatalities occurred, the highway patrol said, on highway 53, four miles north of Campbell, when a 1965 Plymouth traveling north, driver unidentified, was going at a high rate of speed when a rear tire went flat causing the car to hurtle into a steep embankment and overturn.

Another youth, Harold D. Perkins, 18, of Malden, was thrown from the car. He sustained a fractured elbow and burns and was taken to Doctors hospital in Poplar Bluff. He is reported in serious condition.

White was born March 2, 1954 in St. Joseph, the son of Mrs. Mary White.

Survivors include his mother; eight brothers, Marion Richard and Billie White, both of Campbell, Bobby White of Poplar Bluff, Eddie, Jimmie, Jackie, and Harold White, all of St. Joseph, and Albert White of the state of California; and three sisters, Mrs. Frances Despain and Mrs. Mary Mignery, both of Rushville, and Mrs. Sarah Ellington of Poplar Bluff.

Graveside services were at 4:30 p.m. today at Elder cemetery with the Rev. James Marlar officiating.

Dickens was born Dec. 25, 1950 in Campbell, the son of Mrs. Lorene Dickens.

Survivors include his mother; two sisters, Emmajean and Mary Elsie Dickens, and two brothers, Lloyd Dickens of Campbell and Spc. 4 Charles J. Dickens of Fort Hood, Tex.

Graveside services were at 1:30 p.m. today at Elder cemetery with the Rev. Harold Mills officiating.

Survivors include his mother; his stepfather, Joe Wilson of Campbell; one brother, Kenneth Lizenbee of Campbell; two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Hall of Memphis and Mrs. Beverly Spears of Piggott, Ark.; and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Etha Oliver of Campbell.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Landess funeral chapel with the Rev. Howard Harmon officiating.

Burial will be in Gunnels cemetery.

Possibly More Lives Lost

Radio Reports 10,000 Dead

NEW DELHI (AP) — A 16foot tidal wave swept through villages along the Bay of Bengal last Friday and local political leaders estimated, after a tour of the area, that 15,000 persons, perhaps as many as 20,000, had perished.

The Indian government radio put the total at 10,000.

It reported that at least a million homes had been destroyed or damaged so severely as to leave 4 million persons homeless in the newest disaster to afflict the Indian subcontinent.

The Cuttack and Balasore districts of eastern Orissa State, 150 miles southeast of Calcutta, appeared to be the areas hardest hit by the tidal wave and accompanying cyclonic winds of up to 100 miles an hour.

The Times of India, in a dispatch from Cuttack, said air drops of food were urgently required in some areas where all roads, rail lines and air strips had been flooded or destroyed.

The low-lying coastal villages are the target of annual cyclonic storms and tidal waves that roar in from the Bay of Bengal and devastate an impoverished region of East Pakistan and India in which the inhabitants survive on a bare subsistence diet even in the best of times.

A storm and tidal wave last November killed at least 300,000 persons in the Ganges river basin in East Pakistan 300 miles northeast of the disaster area this weekend.

The weekend storm passed Sunday from Orissa to neighboring West Bengal state, destroying homes and rice crops in coastal villages that only two months ago were ravaged by the annual monsoon floods.

The area in West Bengal is filled with East Pakistani refugee camps, but initial reports said most of the camps had escaped the brunt of the storm.

Orissa is mostly a hilly region where the annual rainfall is 40-60 inches. Several mountain streams and rivers provide flood water irrigation. As in West Bengal, to the northeast, rice is among the most important crops.

The area of East Pakistan and India around the Bay of Bengal has been called "Cyclone Alley," where storms hit in the spring and the fall with a devastating regularity. Historians say 300,000 persons died in the Bay of Bengal area from storms and tidal waves in 1737. More recent bad years include 1960, 1963, 1965 and 1969.

Last year's tidal wave that killed 300,000 persons in East Pakistan was described by one witness as having a cold luminous glow like "the flickering light of an unfocused television tube."

Thirteen Army Units Phased Out

SAIGON (AP) -- Thirteen more U.S. Army units totaling 1,335 men were phased out of combat today, prior to withdrawal from Vietnam, and the U.S. Command said American troop strength in the country was reduced to 196,700 men last week.

Informed sources disclosed that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is bringing to Saigon Wednesday a broad outline of President Nixon's plan to speed up the disengagement of U.S. ground forces from the war.

The sources speculated that the Nixon administration is thinking in terms of a residual force of 40,000 to 50,000 troops — and perhaps less -- by July 1. Laird will spend three days in Saigon meeting with U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of American forces in Vietnam, President Nguyen Van Thieu and other Vietnamese officials.

The troop strength figure of 196,700 men, the lowest since January 1966, does not include the 1,335 phased out today nor another 2,890 which the U.S. Command announced had been moved out of combat zones in connection with the deactivation Sunday of the Americal Division. Deactivation of the Americal leaves only one full U. S. combat division in Vietnam, compared to the equivalent of 11 1/3 divisions at the peak of the war.

Today the Saigon government observed South Vietnam's National Day with prayers for peace and tributes to the 135,000 government troops killed in action since 1960. The holiday, eighth anniversary of the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem, was designated a day of prayers for peace.

American forces were on a special alert in anticipation of enemy attacks during the holiday and the inauguration of President Nguyen Van Thieu Sunday. But the battlefields were reported quiet, and it was disclosed that U.S. air strikes are at their lowest level this year.

Informed sources said Air Force fighter - bombers averaged only 10 missions per day last week, compared to more than double that number the week before.

Pistol Shot Fatal

Thomas Gray of 311 Petty was shot fatally Saturday night as he stood on Osage Street in Sunset Addition. Police said the man was shot once in the back of the head apparently with large caliber pistol. He was taken to the Missouri Delta Community Hospital and transferred to a Memphis hospital, where he died Sunday morning.

Police arrested Eugene Harris of route one Benton for questioning , but they said Harris denies the killing. He was arrested on Osage Street Saturday night and when police informed him that he was under arrest they charged he reached into his shirt and started to pull a knife on them. An eight-inch butcher knife was taken from him and he was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Harris charged another unidentified man with the killing. One report was that the unidentified man was firing a pistol on Osage Street Saturday night and may have struck Gray by accident.

Residents of Osage street reported hearing shots fired Saturday night.

Wrecks Injure 3

Two one vehicle accidents during Halloween weekend resulted in four injuries.

At 7 a.m. Saturday eight miles north of Miner on Interstate 55, a 1968 tractor-trailer going south driven by Douglas Wayne MacDonald, 25, of Memphis, struck a dirt embankment. MacDonald sustained a fractured nose and back when he apparently went to sleep, the highway patrol said and lost control of the vehicle.

He was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

On highway 25 two miles north of Malden at 2 p.m. Sunday, a 1971 GMC truck traveling south, driven by Charles Doyle Williams, 33, of Malden, went out of control and overturned, the patrol said, after a rear axle broke.

The driver, his wife, Gail, 33, and his son, Ronnie 11, sustained minor injuries. They were taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital in Kennett.

Girl Charges Rape

An 18-year-old Lilbourn girl told police Sunday that a 66-year-old Sunset Addition resident raped her twice Sunday morning. The girl, Willie Strickland, signed a complaint charging Annise Davis with the assault.

The Lilbourn girl told police Davis offered her a ride to Lilbourn at 4:30 a.m. Sunday, she accepted and got into his car. Instead of driving to Lilbourn, the girl charges Davis drove west of Sunset parked the car near the side of the road and forced her from the car at gun point.

She said he placed a single barrel shotgun to her back and forced her into a nearby field and there had intercourse with her twice. She accused him of holding her at gunpoint during the alleged assault.

Patrolman Otis Applewhite spotted the two parked near the Compress Road Sunday morning, but said the girl did not cry for help of give any indication that assistance was needed.

Applewhite said he later saw the girl alone in the automobile but she did not call for help.

Following the complaint, Davis was arrested in the Sunset and brought to the police station where he is being held pending investigation. A single barrel shotgun was found in the trunk of his car when he was arrested.

Mall Theft Arrest Made

Police have arrested a 15-year-old East St. Louis boy and charged him with the early Saturday morning burglary of the J.C. Penney Co. store and the Gun and Smoke Shop in the Kingsway Plaza Mall.

The youth was arrested at he Post House east of Miner Saturday at 10 a.m. by officer Odis Applewhite. Applewhite had questioned the boy earlier but returned to question him again. The information the youth gave the officer during the first questioning differed with information given later and Applewhite brought the boy to the police station where the arrest was made.

The boy told police he arrived at the Post House at 1 a.m. Saturday and rode in a taxi from the Post House to the Holiday Inn. From the Holiday Inn the boy walked to the mall where he was accused of breaking a west side window and to enter the building. Once inside he broke a glass door at the J.C. Penney store.

When a burglar alarm sounded he fled from the building to a cottonfield. He said he hid in the field nearly 30 minutes but when no one came to investigate he reentered the building and began to haul merchandise from the building and store it in the field.

Police said the boy told them he used his suitcase to haul several rifles and handguns from the store.

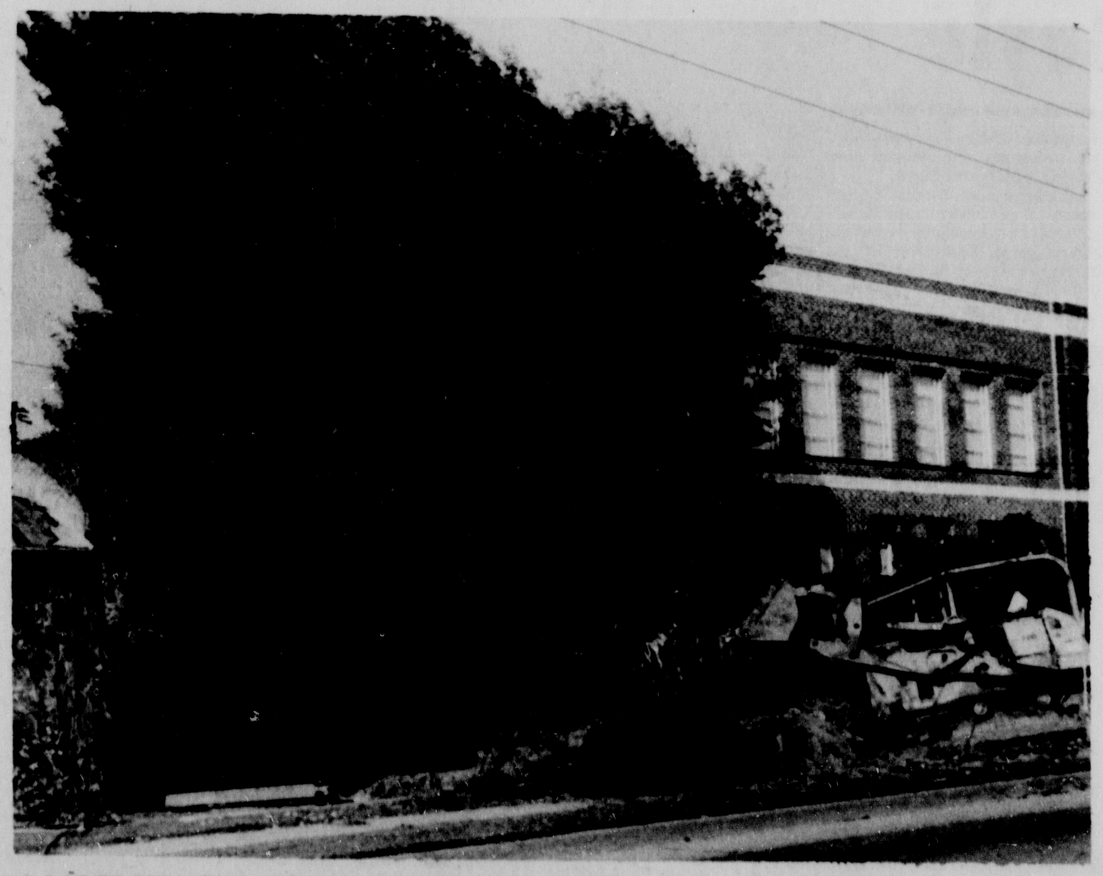
Three or four trips were made into the building, the boy said, and most of the loot was hidden in the field.

When a janitor arrived the boy left the building for the final time and walked from the mall to city park, where he waited until daylight. He then walked back to the bus terminal and was awaiting a bus when officer Applewhite arrested him.

When arrested the youth police said, was carrying a .45 caliber pistol taken from the Gun and Smoke Shop and a watch taken from Penny's. Other items including another watch and pistol were found in his luggage.

At least five pistols taken during the burglary were not recoverd. Police said the investigation is continuing.

The boy said he was the sole participant in the burglary but police said another youth may have been involved.



A LARGE PINOAK came tumbling down Saturday morning in front of the division 10 highway department office, in the highway widening project on Main street and highway 61. Both the flagpole and front steps will be moved. Arlon Maevers, construction inspector, said the steps will be turned to the north at the entrance.

Policeman Fired Friday

Patrolman Larry Coatney, who has been under attack, was dismissed from the polic department Friday for conduct unbecoming a police officer. Coatney was named by two former police men as the patrolman who maced 17-year-old Byron Klingel when Klingel was being held in the city jail.

Bill Clark and James Watkins had accused him of the mace attack. Mace is a chemical used by police as a spray to incapicitate a criminal.

Klingel had earlier charged Coatney and as many as three other officers maced him from 15 to 20 times during 35 days in the jail on a theft charge.

Police Chief Arthur Bruce, who also came under attack by officers, said Coatney was dismissed primarily or two reasons.

Bruce said the Klingel incident played a large part in Coatney's dismissal. Coatney, who was not available for comment this morning, was has denied the incident. Bruce said that if the macing incident did occur it was possibly meant as a prank Klingel and Coatney were reported to be close friends.

Bruce sadi Coatney's dismissal also steemed from reports that he was associating with unsavory characters. One report indicated that Coatney was smoking marijuana in a patrol car but Bruce said that Coatney denied the charge. A seed which may have been marijuana was found in Coatney's briefcase and ashes, possibly containing marijuana, were taken from the ashtray of Coatney's patrol car. Bruce said Coatney is under investigation for possession of marijuana. He is not being held.

City manager Raymert Miller would not confirm or deny reports that Coatney was dismissed because he was under suspicion of smoking marijuana in a police car.

Red Flag Flies Above U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The gold-starred red flag of Communist China was hoisted for the first time at U.N. headquarters today.

the historic task fell to two Americans, Willard Bodie, 28, and George Baldwin, 28, who with 10 other blue-uniformed U.N. guards routinely raise the flags of all 131 member countries each weekday morning.

The guards raised the bloodred flag of China for the first time since the nation was voted into the U.N. a week ago. The flags are in alphabetical order and China's is 23rd.

A 30-strong crowd of news photographers and television cameramen provided the only color in a light drizzle under leaden skies.

Acting Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei messaged SecretaryGeneral U Thant Sunday that his country should be listed on the U.N. rolls "with the English letter 'C' at the beginning, that is, China, People's Republic of."

That meant that Peking's seat in the General Assembly hall and its flag on the poles outside would, like Nationalist China's before, be between Chile's and Colombia's instead of down in the P's. The flagpole had been flagless since Chiang Kai-shek's government was expelled from the United Nations on Oct. 25.

CONSOLATION FOR CONSERVATIVES

Although the media desperately attempts to convince everyone that conservatism is unpopular and a perspective of the past, two recent reports contradict them.

According to the Gallup Poll taken after President Nixon's economic announcement, the President is ahead of his three leading Democratic Party rivals as the public's choice for the presidency in 1972. In a similar poll last June, Nixon trailed Sen. Edmund Muskie and barely edged Sen. Edward Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey. In the latest poll, Nixon led all three by at least 5 per cent.

The second report indicates that Nixon is not conservative enough. The Young Americans for Freedom, a conservative youth group claiming 70,000 members, voted overwhelmingly to suspend its support of President Nixon, and in a mock presidential nomination picked Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for 1972.

The media's efforts to discredit conservatism are possibly counter-productive. The fact that the majority of Americans today favor a conservative candidate indicates the concerted efforts of the media to brainwash the public have failed. It is a healthy sign that most Americans can recognize propaganda when they meet it. Conservatism is far more popular among the American people than our media would lead us to believe.

PLEA TO THE AMERICAN TAXPAYERS

Otto E. Passman (Dem.-La.), chairman of the House Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations, has sent out a letter-bulletin to some editors and many taxpayers calling attention to the wastefulness of our Foreign Aid Program.

We quote a portion of his letter:

"Our government is continuing to dissipate your resources and wealth in foreign nations all over the world. This unconscionable practice is destroying our world markets, destroying the value of the American dollar and placing an unbearable public debt upon the shoulders of unborn generations. This practice of giving away your wealth is creating inflation and reducing the purchasing power of your dollar which is the equivalent to confiscating your savings. I must speak out again and say forthrightly that the good claimed for this program is not supported by the facts ...

"There are approximately Fifty Billion U.S. Dollars floating around in foreign countries. We do not have the gold to redeem these dollars, so they are surplus to the needs of foreign nations for commerce. Do not blame the present Administration for this unbelievable situation because it has been building up for 25 years. The habit of giving away our wealth is so ingrained in the minds of the bureaucrats who give away this money that they cannot overcome the addiction. So, those of us who know the facts must now spread this news throughout the nation and plead for support so as to bring this outlandish, wasteful, ever-growing addiction under control, or else someday surely regret our neglect."

Total net disbursements to foreign nations, 1946 -1971, were $138,446,200,000. Total net interest paid on what we have borrowed to give away, 1946-1971, were $74,434,597,000. Of the three-and-half billion people of the world, all but 36 million have received aid from the U.S.

Can it be denied that our country has substituted dollars for a sound foreign policy, aid for trade, appeasement for firmness? We have become so addicted to this formula that it is no longer even suggested that it be stopped.

Only the American taxpayers have the power to stop it, says Rep. Passman, and he needs our help to gain more support in Congress to curtail and eliminate the Foreign Aid program.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Air pollution may cause another ice age, warns a Japanese meteorologist, Dr. Tadashi Yano. He says that in the last 30 years wasse particles in the atmosshere have already blocked enough ssnlight to cause the average world temperature to drop nearly one degree.

Earthquake damage iss't limited to California or Alaska. Scientists say major destructive quakes can occur in at least 19 other states. They are Nevada, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Misssuri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, New York, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts.

You don't have to have, money to buy things in Barrow, America's northernmost settlement. Stores there will accept pelts and whale meat as payment.

How much do you spend for food? The average American spends 16.4 per cent of his dissosable income for food. In England the figure is 26 per cent; in West Germany, 28 per cent; in France, 31 per cent; in Japan, 40 per cent; in Russsa, 50 per cent.

Quotable notables: "In the end, it will be the family way of life that will persevere. The family changes, but it will never disappear. Every attempt to eliminate the family has failed."—Margaret Mead.

Lower than lower: If you want to get away from it all, one of the best places to go would be at the bottom of the Mariana Trench in the Pacific Ocean. According to the National Geographic Society, that is the globe's greatest watery depth at 36,198 feet.

Finny Marksmen: Some fish can shoot down their prey. One variety, the archer fish of Australia, is only nine inches but can fire a jet of water that will bring down an insect three to four feet away. The fish does it by filling its mouth with water, then flapping its gills shut sharply.

The cross victorious: What finally caused the Roman Empire to fall? Many believe it was the rise of Chrissianity, which turned peple's minds from war and obedience to the state to thoughts of peace and individual salvation.

Worth remembering: "Most girls are looking for a man who is tall, dark and has some."

Know your language: Ever wonder where the word "spinster" comes from. It literally means "one who spins." It was the custom in medieval Britain for unmarried girls to spend their time spinning. Since the 17th century it has been applied to unwed women past the usual age of marriage.

3½ BILLION PEP PILLS BOUGHT IN '70

Last year Americans purchased three and one-half billion pep pills and almost as many tranquilizers, according to Samuel B. Gould, Chancellor, State University of New York.

In an Albany Medical College commencement address he said, "We seem increasingly to prefer the self-imposed chemical pollution of our bodies to the really tough confrontation of our minds with our huge social problems. With growing hypocrisy we preach the urgent need for greater intelligence, concern for others and sustained social action; and then we cop out with a trip into personal gratification or self-pity, replacing constructive efforts with freak-outs, rationality with sensations...This rejection of history and disregard of the future, leaving only the now as life's essential element, this fever pitch of emotionalism, hedonism, and righteous moralism, however stimulated—these have become distinguishing features of our society."

BUOY REPLACES MEN

A Large Navigational Buoy (LNB) has been ordered bythe Coast Guard to replace lightships along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Unmanned and built at a cost of $250,000 each, they will replace a $2.5 million lightship and a crew of 15 to 19 men as well as support personnel.

The buoy weighs 104 tons, measures 40 feet in diameter which supports a 38-foot tower housing a 7,500 candlepower light and a radio beacon antenna. It is diesel-powered.

THE HUMANITIES SERIES DOUBLED

The National Humanities Series, a program designed to take humanities presentations to small communities, has begun its second year of operation with the number of presentations nearly doubled.

The National Endowment for Humanities underwrites the cost of the series, and the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation plans and administers the programs.

The series will reach approximately 55 communities in 32 states and present three related themes, "Justice—Trial and Error", a study of man's quest for an orderly community; "Stop, Look and Listen," an exploration of the humanities through the media of music, films television, drama, art and literature; and "Face to Face," an inquiry into how and why men create.

The series, according to a spokesman, encourages informality, interaction, dialogue and a shared experience between the presentation team and the audience.

MR. AGNEW'S RETURN

"You possess another rare quality in our times - to speak on every occasion the language of truth." So went the toast at a dinner in Athens in honor ofthe son of Theofrastos Agnostopoulos, otherwise known in American households as Spiro Agnew.

The Vice President did not let his hosts down. He described George Papadopoulos, Greece's junta-appointed premier, as a "highly intelligent man who intends to return his country to representative government." This recalls another trip the Vice President made last July to a string of autocratically-ruled nations after which he declard that he was "very impressed" with such leaders as Emperor Haile Selassie and Gen. Joseph D. Mobutu and urged American black leaders to,"learn from them."

The Vice President singled out the Greek regime's achievement in the field of public education as exemplary. Obviously no one told him that one of the junta's first steps on taking over the government was to reduce compulsory education from nine years to five years. The Vice President also chose to ignore the Greek generals' initial ban of books and plays by a number of ancient and renowned Greek writers and philosophers.

We grant that a guest of a dictatorship may find it difficult to find something to praise, but Mr. Agnew found it too easy to praise the wrong things.——Post-Dispatch.

Our loyal and faithful ally for many years, the Nationalist Government of China, has been eliminated as a member of the United Nations and is being replaced by the communist regime of Peking which acquired its power through violence and by a lack of resolution of freedom-loving people around the world to halt aggression. A lack of resolution for the cause of justice has shown through again at the U.N. as Taiwan was expelled and Red China seated. The best our friends could do was bow out voluntarily before the expulsion was made official.

Our representative at the U. N. was active before the vote trying to round up some support for the solid, legal case of Chiang Kai-shek, but at the same time our all-powerful ambassador at large, Henry Kissinger, was in Peking dealing with the communists. This has been typical of our China policy through the years. But the double talk and compromise that is so evident puts us in great peril since mainland China now has nuclear capability.

The Albanian ambassador at the U.N. said: "Today's vote has demonstrated the great role that the world recognizes for the people of (communist) China." He didn't mention that the role theyhave followed so far has been one of aggression. The Albanian and many others have forgotten a requirement for membership. The charter says it shall be made up of "peace-loving nations."

Despite the action at the U.N. and our courting Peking, people in this Republic and freedom-lovers everywhere ought to speak firmly for 14 million who find themselves beleaguered on the island of Taiwan. Governments can change courses and all those nations that once recognized the perils of communism should stand up and be recounted.

Washington-Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON-- Despite pious protestations to the contrary, the Nixon Administration has been hounding the 80-year-old former Speaker, John McCormack, who retired from public life last January with a presidential plaque.

President Nixon proclaimed his "great admiration and respect" for McCormack, and White House press secretary Ron Ziegler solemnly denied that the Administration was investigating McCormack's activities. Yet on September 13, two U.S. Attorneys, Richard Ben-Veniste and W. Cullen MacDonald, paid a quiet call on the old man and grilled him about a hardship discharge he had sought for a Navy enlisted man.

The two investigators finally agreed not to bait the grieving McCormack in his hospital room where he is keeping a lonely vigil at the bedside of his beloved wife Harriet. During more than 50 years of marriage, he has never spent a night apart from her. Now he has moved into Washington's Providence Hospital where he sits day after day beside the life-long companion who, sadly, seldom recognizes him.

McCormack balked at answering the gunshoes' questions at the hospital for fear it might upset his wife. So arrangements for the interview were made at the Washington law office of his nephew, Edward McCormack.

The former Speaker's answers will be presented to a federal grand jury in Miami. His former aide, Doctor Martin Sweig, will also be brought to Miami from the federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., for questioning tomorrow (November 2).

We exposed how Sweig, using McCormack's name and sometimes imitating his voice, fixed federal cases for a five percenter named Nathan Voloshen. Sweig is now serving a 30-month sentence for perjury.

We emphasized, however, that our investigation showed no skulduggery by the former Speaker. He did government favors for his friends and constituents in the tradition of South Boston's "Last Hurrah" politics. But we could find no evidence that he ever took a penny for these favors. On the contrary, he carefully segregated his personal and congressional accounts, scrupulously paying all personal postage, telephone calls and other bills out of his own pocket. He routinely turned down campaign contributions, since he had almost no campaign expenses

INVESTIGATION DENIED

We reported that the Nixon Administraton, nevertheless, was conducting a criminal investigation of McCormack at the same time that President Nixon honored him at a White House luncheon. Our story brought an angry denial from Press Secretary Ron Zielger, who called in reporters to tell them:

"I very seldom do this, but I want to give you this bit of information that appeared in a columm by Jack Anderson....I would like to volunteer and state quite categorically that any allegations that the Nixon Administration tried in any way to seek or to pin criminal charges on Speaker McCormack, as the column suggests, is totally and absolutely false and without any foundation whatsoever."

Ziegler added, for extra emphasis, that he had "talked withthe Attorney General" who confirmed that the Justice Department was not investigating McCormack.

Yet even as Ziegler was issuing his categorical denial, a federal grand jury in New York City was trying to pin criminal charges upon the retiring Speaker. Three of McCormack's closest friends, who had been invited to the White House luncheon in his honor, were subpoenaed before the grand jury just a few days after listening to the President praise McCormack and present him with a plaque.

The three were Rubin Epstein, president of Boston's City Bank and Trust; George Feldman, former ambassador to Malta and Luxembourg; and Peter Clohérty, consultant for a Boston engineering firm. They were asked whether they had ever given McCormack any payments or gifts in return for government favors.

RECORDS SUBPOENAED

The grand jury also subpoenaed McCormack's financial records from the Boston City Bank and demanded all the Cloherty firm's records relating to federal contracts. The testimony completely exonerated McCormack, and the bank records showed he had only a modest savings account. The old man's total net worth, an accumulation of a lifetime, was estimated around $100,000.

A few days ago, the Justice Department's Richard Ben-Veniste turned up in Boston where he is still prying into McCormack's affairs. He went through the Speakers' private papers which are stored at Boston University. McCormack had willingly given him permission to examine them. The U.S. Attorney made off with a file dealing with a hardship discharge for H.A. Keller, Jr., son of a Miami industrialists. The young man had sought to get out of the Navy in 1959 because of his wife's poor health.

The Justice Department's gumshoes also questioned McCormack about his relationship with Michael Silbert of Miami. They asked whether he had accepted any payments, gifts or contributions from Silbert for seeking Keller's discharge. The ex-Speaker replied that he had known Silbert for 15 years but had never accepted anything more substantial from him than a box of cigars.

The Justice Department, meanwhile, has offered to help soften Sweig's sentence in return for his "cooperation." Sweig's attorney, Paul Smith, told us the inference, if never stated outright, was that Sweig should give evidence against McCormack.

This is what has happened since Ziegler, in behalf of the President and Attorney General, denied our story about the investigation of McCormack. It may give the public an idea as to the worth of a White House denial.

Inside Labor

Snub To Tito And Mao: labor chiefs say UN is dead; will fight to cut funds for Global H.Q.

WASHINGTON: - Poor Alice. Few bother now about her wonderland. But no one, really, need bother with old fantasies any longer. Not when that old Marxist, Josip Broz Tito, chief of the League of Yugoslav Communists, is wined and dined by the cream of American capitalism in the White House and is snubbed by American labor.

Not that President Nixon and Marshall Tito didn't try to convince the labor leaders to come to dinner --right up to the last moment. There were direct calls from the White House to the AFL—CIO. And indirect emissaries from the Yugoslav foreign office. It just did not look good in Marchall Tito's Third World not to have working -class representation at the unproletarian festivities for the 79-year-old revolutionist who went to theWhite House on an anti-Israeli Mission.

Basically labor did not come because its leaders considered Josip Broz a killer who never changed. And, in effect, it now can be disclosed they said as much at a secret meeting in the White House on Oct. 13, 1970. That day, just about a year ago, there gathered around Mr. Nixon, at his invitation, his own foreign affairs specialists and Mr. Meany's. Thus, with the Chief Executive were Secretary of State Rogers and Chuck Colson, while in the labor contingent was the legendary Jay Lovestone, who once defied Stalin to his face, and the AFL-CIO's whirlwindish African specialist Irving Brown.

The discussion had turned to labor's relations with visiting dignitaries. Meany said that labor would not attend any dinner or reception tendered to any dictatorial head of state. Mr. Rogers blustered. But the President cut in quickly. That's the way it would be, he said, adding he could understand. But he had no intention of not cultivating the Titos of the world.

At that moment, labor still was Mr. Nixon's most powerfulforeign policy support bloc. In Congress and on the streets --or has everyone forgotten the legions of hard hats?

But deeply etched bitterness on labor's part replaced that of momentary fraternity. Publicly and privately, George Meany has assailed the President in words hurled at no other man in the White House since Theodore Roosevelt moved up. Not the least of what Meany has said is that the President dispatched security adviser Henry Kissinger "to sit in Chou (En-lai)'s lap."

Where, then, will Mr. Nixon get his support in the Congress onsuch matters as ballistic missile financing as he did from labor two years ago?

What will now develop in the United Nations when the International Labor Organization (ILO), for example, automatically expels the Republic of China?

Indeed, what will happen to the UN itself? The AFL—CIO has just said, in so many words,the global organization is dead. In a statement issued by Meany after the expulsion of Taiwan, the 13.6 million-member AFL—CIO hits at the UN andthe President and the mission to China as no other powerful American organization ever has.

In recent months, says the unreported statement, American foreign policy has "been geared, with mounting frequency, to a course of appeasement especially in such pivotal areas as the Asian mailand, Central Europe and the Middle East. The spectacle of the President's personal representative in Peking making overtures to the representative of Red China at a time when the U.S. was supposed to be supporting the Nationalist Chinese in the UN was not lost on many of the smaller nations who must of necessity look to the bigger powers for their security."

The expulsion vote, says Meany, "has dealt a fatal blow to the UN as an instrument of international harmony, peace and freedom...The confidence of the American people in this world body has been gravely damaged...This action can only foster among the peoples of of the world an attitude of paralyzing distrust in the UN which had once inspired them with hope for a world free from war, tyranny and poverty."

There's no doubt now that the AFL-CIO will back moves to trim the UN budget which is estimated at $207.8 million for 1972. The U.S. pays 31.52 per cent of the UN central secretariat bill---which does not include millions more for special agencies such as the ILO. Thus the American share of UN carrying charges in '72 will be put at nearly $65 million when new personnel are included --meaning new and large contingents of Communist Chinese.

American labor chiefs don't want some special agencies' funds cut--such as money for the UN Industrial Development Organization, etc. But there are over 5,500 employes in in the glass tower on New York's East River. They live well. They rarely put in long hours. They are well paid. Few of them could earn half as much back home since most of them are foreign nationals.

And many of them are from nations which voted against the U.S. though both labor and the U.S. government dragged them out of the muck of European colonialism -- such as in Guyena, on the northern South American coast. From now on many of the foreign labor leaders who became prime ministers, such as the ungrateful Guyanese premier, can stew in their own bankruptcies.

After being infiltrated and shot at by Peking agents, they voted against the forces which saved them. Now they can run for their lives on their own.

Fulbright Predicts Stopgap Aid Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee confers today amid the ruins of the U.S. foreign aid program to start deciding whether, when and how to put it back together.

Committee chairman Sen. J.W. Fulbright predicted Senate approval of a stopgap aid program, although he said the committee may do no more than discuss the alternatives today.

President Nixon let it be known he wants temporary extension of a coordinated aid bill while he drafts a new assistance program.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott also urged passage of an interim program and called on Congress to develop a new bill "to keep the peace." He said he supports temporary extension of aid at existing levels.

The prospect was that major portions of the program would indeed be salvaged despite the Senate vote that killed a bill authorizing $2.9 billion to keep overseas assistance flowing.

Exactly how was another question, and Senate sources said that would take some time to settle. There isn't much available, since the resolution under which the aid program and the agency that runs it are financed will expire in 15 days.

The White House said Sunday that Nixon rejects the idea of piecemeal appropriations for one or another of the aid programs included in the defeated bill.

Nixon and a key White House lobbyist, William Timmons, conferred during the weekend on strategy for persuading the Senate to temporarily extend the aid program at existing levels of funding.

If the temporary extension is approved, officials said, Nixon then plans to prepare and push for enactment of an entirely new aid program.

The new lobbying effort was mapped as some senators blamed administration "overlobbying" for the foreign aid defeat.

Fulbright said Sunday he foresees continuation of the more popular aid programs, although attempts to include military assistance could endanger any revival efforts.

The Arkansas Democrat said he does not believe any interim program would include funds "for the military domination of other countries."

Interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation," Fulbright did not rule out continuation of military aid to South Vietnam although he said such programs are "sticking points" threatening passage.

Girl Hostage, 2 Negotiators Freed

MANILA (AP) — A 14-yearold American girl, her uncle and a Filipino newsman were released unharmed today by a Filipino armed with a shotgun who had held the girl hostage for more than nine hours at her home.

After extended negotiations, the newsman had taken the girl, Susan Butler; her uncle, Stewart Raab, and the gunman to a nearby polo club where they boarded a helicopter owned by the Manila Times.

The helicopter took off, and the paper said a short while after the pilot radioed that he had let the gunman off in Zambales province, on the west coast north of Manila. The pilot said he returned to Manila with Susan and Raab.

Susan is the daughter of Charles R. Butler, a local businessman who is on a business trip in the United States.

Police said the gunman and an accomplice had entered the Butler home in fashionable Forbes Park early today, apparently to burglarize the house.

When Mrs. Butler went to a guest house to check on a maid who had been sent to turn on the air conditioner, she found the girl stabbed to death. One of the two intruders shot Mrs. Butler in the hip, police said.

Alerted by the commotion, police arrived at the house and found the dead maid and Mrs. Butler, who was taken to a hospital. Authorities said one man escaped as police were fired on from the house. The other man announced over an intercom system inside that he was holding Susan Butler hostage.

The gunman threatened to kill Susan and himself with his sawed-off shotgun unless police, who occupied the first floor, vacated the house. They did.

Then began a series of negotiations between the man, Raab, newsman Ruther Batuigas and authorities.

The gunman at first agreed to let the newsman and Raab drive him to a spot outside the city but later balked at releasing Susan. A stalemate developed, and police with automatic rifles moved back into the house.

Batuigas, who went back and forth between the gunman and authorities several times, reported the man was extremely nervous. He said the gunman, whose face was masked by a red bandanna with slits for the eyes and mouth, thrust the shotgun's muzzle into the newsman's stomach when he came too close.

The man told him he had escaped from a prison in Davao, in the southern Philippines.

After 9½ hours of talks, the gunman agreed to release the girl if given the equivalent of $2,000 and a helicopter flight to safety. The plan was for the uncle to turn over the cash once the craft was airborne.

Student Fast Set Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students in more than 700 colleges and 12,000 high schools will skip lunch Wednesday so some East Pakistani refugees in India will not go hungry.

"The students will handle the fast the way they want to on their own campuses or in their own high schools," said Cynthia Diggle, director of education for Oxfam-America, Inc., sponsors of the fast.

"If a student wants to, he can donate what he normally spends for lunch to the program," she said.

The money raised will help some of the 9 million people who fled from East Pakistan to India, Mrs. Diggle said.

Oxfam, Mrs. Diggle said, is "basically an international relief and development agency working in more than 30 developing countries—primarily in Asia, Africa and South America."

Although the fast has been used by Oxfam for a long time, this is the first time a largescale fast has bn planned in the United States by the 30year-old British-based organization, she said.

"It is, at this time, an American project," Mrs. Diggle said. "Other Oxfam groups in other countries have their own projects to aid the Pakistani refugees."

The student fast is co-sponsored by Project Relief of Providence, R.I.

"We really can't say at this point how much money we will raise," Mrs. Diggle said. "But we have emphasized to students that $1 would feed one refugee for about one month."

"War Of Worlds' Broadcast Stirs Emotions

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Despite advance billing, a radio station's localized version of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" touched off a flood of telephone calls to news media and law enforcement offices.

Buffalo police discribed public reaction to WKBW's program Halloween night as "nervousness" rather than the panic which met Orson Welles' fictional account of a Martian invasion of earth on Halloween Eve 33 years ago.

"One man ran up shouting to one of our cars, but he calmed down," a deputy in the Erie County sheriff's office said. He reported the office had received eight calls about the program.

Bruce Kaplan, the line disc jockey on duty at the station, said he was swamped with calls.

Buffalo police received some 100 calls and news media in Boston, Washington, New York, Rochester and Providence, R.I., also received inquiries.

In Detroit, a small FM station, WABX carried Welles' original version Sunday night and station spokesmen said they received only two calls, both favorable. Police said they got no queries. The station normally broadcast rock music.

An officer at the State Police barracks in Buffalo said 18 calls had been received there.

"About half the calls were from frightened women and the other half were from people angry at the station," he said.

The station had presented its version of the Wells classic on the past three Halloween nights and Sunday night's program was promoted with spot announcements throughout the preceding week, a station spokesman said.

Preceded by a five-minute explanation of the nature of the presentation, the program started shortly before 11 p.m. as a bogus news bulletin reporting a Martian landing at nearby Grand Island.

The voices of WKBW newsmen "reporting" from the scene by walkie-talkie were then woven into the dramatization. The account of the "invasion" was interspersed with announcements that it was only fantasy.

"We had been promoting the program all day—every 10 minutes—yet some guy called up during the broadcast and said, 'Hey, when you gonna have" "War of the Worlds?" Kaplan said.

"Then a girl said she was calling for her grandmother who wanted to know whether this was for real or another one of our crazy tricks."

Welles, then 23, spread panic across the nation in 1938 on Halloween Eve with a fictional account of a Martian landing in New Jersey.

Welles' program, which was also preceded by a statement saying the account was fantasy and interspersed with similar announcements, was aired on his Mercury Theater of the Air on CBS.

Reagan Acts As Messenger Boy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan doubled as a florist deliveryman, carrying a dozen long-stemmed roses to the wife of a Sacramento airman stationed in Vietnam.

"Hello, I'm Ronald Reagan. Your husband asked me to deliver these flowers to you and tell you that he loves you," the govenor told Mrs. Earl Huffman.

"I kind of cried just a bit. It's like a dream," Mrs. Huffman said Friday in disclosing Reagan's visit the previous day.

Ann Landers

Age Discrimination Not Fair To Older Women

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the 17-year-old who fantasized about his death in an automobile accident was one of the most blood-chilling but effective pieces of writing I have ever read. Thank you for printing it, Ann. Here is another bit of fantasy. If you think it has value, publish it because it is 95 per cent true. The only sentence that is an invention is the first one.

Dear17 and Too Young To Die: I am the old lady you chose to pass on the highway at the wrong moment. I would give anything if I could trade places with you. I am 67 and have known for some, time that I will die within a year from an incurable illness. I am able to function at present but is just a matter of time before I will be bed-ridden and then the agony of wasting away.

What a cruel trick of fate that a person who would welcome death is denied it while a young lad such as you....so full of the exuberance of life, with the whole world at his feet, should be snuffed out like a candle in the wind.

A word to the young and healthy, to those who have dreams and hopes: Savor each moment, enjoy what you have. Cherish every day. But be careful. Live not for the moment, but for the years ahead that can be yours.---Alaska

Dear Alaska: Thank you for a beautiful bit of philosophy. It will please you to know that the letter you wrote about will continue to be read by teen-agers all over the country. More than 100 high school editors asked for permission to reprint that letter in their school papers.

Dear Ann Landers: You are out of your corn-pickin' mind. Your advice to the woman over 40 who is a competent and experienced secretary but no 36-26-34 stank out loud. You suggested that she let her friends know she is looking for a job.

Don't you realize that the losers have no friends? The moment they lose---whether it's a job, a spouse, a child, or money-- they find out what it's like to be alone. It's the same the world over. There's a great flurry of attention --for four days. Then comes the well-worn phrase -- "If I can do anything just let me know." After that, it's a total fade-out and they are never heard from again.

If you're going to be an effective advisor you'd better pull off the rose-colored glasses and tell it like it is, Annie Baby. The 40-plus gal who wrote was giving you the straight story. Women over 40 ARE discriminated against in the job market and that's the god's truth. ---Another Texas Retread

Dear Texas: The cynical tone of your letter indicates that you've had some bitter experiences and I'm sorry. Yes, I know life isn't a bed of roses, but is isn't a garbage dump, either. People can be lousy, but they can be beautiful, too. Here's a letter which might help you -- and others.

Dear Ann: Did you know that in 1969 Congress passed the "Age Discrimination Employment Act?" The purpose: To promote employment on the basis of ability, not age. The existence of this federal statute and similar state laws is little known, even among attorneys. You could perform if they are discriminated against because of age. It's illegal. ---R.C. New Rochelle

Dear R.C.: Ann Landers learned something today ---and so did 54 million others. It was good of you to write. Thank you

POLLY'S POINTERS

Problem: How to Get Rid of Silverfish

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I would like to know how to get rid of silverfish. I want to use something that would not be poisonous to children. Also, I have a shower stall with a gray and white enamel floor that has turned white from water standing on it and would like to know how to remove this whiteness.—V. N.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with furniture manufacturers. Why do they put zippers on the backs of sofa and chair cushions? If they were put in the sides, the cushions would be completely reversible and the cording around the cushions would last longer.—MRS. F. L.

DEAR POLLY—I hope the following will help Mrs. C. L. N. remove the blood stains from her upholstered chair. To remove blood from any fabric I let it dry and then rub over the spots with a piece of cotton dampened with hydrogen peroxide. I find this does not spot some material that water does spot.—LEONA

DEAR POLLY—To remove blood stains from her upholstery Mrs. C. L. N. should make a thick paste with cornstarch and water. Spread this on the stain and a bit further out from it so it does not leave a ring when dry. When dry, remove with a vacuum. An old stain may need two applications.—MRS. A. McM.

DEAR GIRLS—The type of material on the chair will have a lot to do with the success of any remedy. Can yours take water? Often there is a layer of soil over the piece and the cleaned area (where the spot was) MAY be more conspicuous than the spot. First try ANY method on an inconspicuous spot and, if not satisfied with that, have it done professionally. This would be the safest anyway for an expensive piece of furniture.—POLLY

Cage Tourney At BCHS

BELL CITY - Basketball action continues to build in Southeast Missouri after the season opening tournament at Parma last week.

Junior varsity cage teams from eight schools are set to battle for the championship of the Bell City Cubs invitational title beginning tonight. Finals will be Saturday.

Scott-Mississippi league rivals, Scott Central and Delta, tip off the week's action at 7 p.m. Advance goes against Stoddard County rival Bell City at 8:30 p.m.

First round action ends Tuesday with Puxico battling Kelly at 7 p.m. and Oran meeting Bloomfield at 8:30 p.m.

This week's tournament will usher in a slim varsity schedule Friday night and then lead to a fairly large card of games next week.

Packer Power

Green Bay has won more league championships than any other team. The Packers have won 11 times, while second place Chicago Bears have taken eight titles.

HAPPINESS IS . . .

Blanda Resumes Miracles Work

The Oakland Raiders again are letting George do it—and 44-year-old George Blanda, the oldest player in pro football, is not letting them down, but keeping them up.

Blanda, whose amazing career started in 1949 and now is in its fourth decade, became the game's all-time leading scorer Sunday as he rallied the Raiders to a 20-20 tie with Kansas City and kept Oakland in a first-place tie with the Chiefs in the Western Division of the American Football Conference.

Blanda, who replaced starter Daryle Lamonica the last two times Oakland had the ball, fired a 24-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff, then kicked an eight-yard field goal with 2 1/2 minutes left.

The tying three-pointer and a previous field goal and two conversions gave Blanda a career total of 1,609 points, one more than former Cleveland kicker Lou Groza. Following the eightyard kick, the game was stopped and Blanda was presented with the football.

"These things just happen to you when you play 22 years," he said.

On Blanda's first play, he hit Ray Chester with a 37-yard strike, and defensive end Aaron Brown of the Chiefs said later "that first pass gave them lots of confidence ... George has done this so many times it works for them psychologically."

Two plays later, Blanda connected with Biletnikoff, who had outmanuevered young cornerback David Handley. Handley had replaced injured starter Jim Marsalis immediately before the play. "I'm sure George knew who we had in there," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram.

"George Blanda is a rare individual," said Oakland Coach John Madden. "The amazing thing is that he's throwing and kicking better than he did four years ago. We both came to this team the same year and I know he's stronger now than he was then. Don't ask me why. He doesn't have any secret formula that I know about."

The tie kept the Raiders and Chiefs deadlocked with 5-1-1 records.

Flying High

In 15 years of varsity competition, Air Force Academy athletes have been honored as All-Americans 127 times, including 12 during the 1970-71 school year.

Sports Corner

Girls Basketball

By RON JAYNES

Girls basketball, which was approved by member schools and the board of directors of the Missouri State High School Activities Association in March, has 122 schools in the state registering for regional tournament action this season.

If you want to see the action in Southeast Missouri, you'll have to travel to Ste. Genevieve and catch the Valle high girls in action. That's the only team in the district to sign up for the first year program.

The majority of the teams are in West and North Missouri with eight schools in the St. Louis area joining with Valle as the only teams south of the Missouri river signed up.

"Most schools in Southeast and Central Missouri emphasize volleyball for the female's," noted Jack miles, assistant executive secretary of the MSHSAA. "It's a real big sport along the borders of Oklahoma and Iowa," Miles noted.

The sport in Oklahoma and Iowa, which has been one of the major factors in the state adopting it, outdraws the boys in attendance.

Tom Hoover, president of the Southeast Missouri Activities Association, which is comprised mostly of the larger schools in the area, has a three - man committee of Sherrill Summitt of Charleston, Bill Wilthong of Illmo - Scott City and Jim Orr of East Prairie studying the possibility of introducing the sport into the association schools.

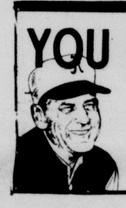
"Girls basketball was dropped a few years back in the larger schools,, due to lack of funds," Hoover commented. "Ten of 18 member schools wanted the study made," the Poplar Bluff administrator said.

"Presently Sikeston girls are involved in a club Volleyball and basketball program with Poplar Bluff and Cape Central," SHS principal Roger Sherman explained. "I think Charleston has been the only team that's really considered beginning the sport."

"Finances, needed for additional coaches and time for use of facilities has been the main problems facing most of the schools," an MSHSAA spokesman said.

A state champion will be crowned in the sport in 1973. All schools will compete in one class instead of three as in the boys athletic program.

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK



By Paul (Bear) Bryant
Head Coach, University of Alabama
Compliments of
Wal—Mart Discount Center

Near the end of the first half, your Oklahoma Sooners, leading Iowa State 21-14, have driven to the Cyclones' one-yard line. A hard rain has started to fall.

You have been successful with both ground and aerial attacks, running well off tackle and around end, and throwing to your running backs as well as to split receivers. If the ball is midway between sidelines, what play will you call here:

1. Field goal try?
2. Off tackle slant with back leading play?
3. Pass to your left half?
4. Sweep around end?

Answer

No. 1. Field goal is like kicking extra point. With rain falling, it's good to go to the half with a 10 point lead. Odds are that scoring will decline as field gets wet.

THIS IS THE KIND of picture Missouri duck hunters dream about all year — a flock of birds bursting off the water in front of the blind. Missouri's duck and goose season opens Oct. 31. Basic duck limit is four daily with eight in possession. In addition, there is a two-scaup daily bonus. Hunters may take no more than two wood ducks daily and no more than either one redhead or one canvasback.

Water Fowl Conditions Good

JEFFERSON CITY -- A two- inch rain in north Missouri on Oct. 19 improved water conditions for the Oct. 31 opening of the Missouri waterfowl season and the Department of Conservation expects a good opener.

There were 104,000 Canada geese in the Swan Lake zone, along with 16,000 blue and snow geese and 60,000 ducks -- mostly mixed baldpates, pintails and greenwing teal, with some mallards showing up.

This year, Missouri hunters can take four mallards daily for thefirst time since 1958. Basic duck limit is four daily and eight in possession, with a two - scaup bonus. Hunters may take only two wood ducks daily and either one canvasback or one redhead.

Squaw Creek, which has suffered from dry weather, has more than 100,000 blue and snow geese. Schell-Osage Wildlife Area and Duck Creek Wildlife Area in western and southern Missouri respectively report fair to good water conditions and ducks on the areas.

Swan Lake zone has a 14,000 Canada goose quota and, for the first time, a 10-shot limit on Canada geese, designed to reduce crippling losses.

Duck season is Oct. 31-Dec. 19. Blue and snow goose season is Oct. 31-Jan. 8. Swan Lake Canada goose quota is expected to be reached in 2-4 weeks after the Oct. 31 opening. Canada goose season in the Squaw Creek zone is Oct. 31-Nov. 29. The Lower Mississippi zone in southeast Missouri will have a Dec. 1-Jan. 23 goose season. The remainder of the State will have a 21-day Canada season, beginning Oct. 31.

Goose limits are five daily and in possession on blue and snow and no more than two whitefront. Swan Lake and Squaw Creek zones have a one Canada daily and two in possession limit. Lower Mississippi zone limit is two Canadas daily and four in possession; rest of state 1-2.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that new farm without delay might seem more practical if you considered the benefits of financing through the Federal Land Bank. Today's expensive land is easier to pay for when its cost is amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less with a Land Bank loan.

As your local Land Bank Association, we offer a complete loan service: We know current land values; we will inspect the property being considered. We will examine your overall plans and resources, and make an income projection. We will then make a loan recommendation that fits your needs precisely and, whenever possible, provide the capital it takes to meet your goals.

Collision Courses Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Nebraska and Oklahoma continuing their merry chase toward a Thanksgiving Day college football showdown, there has been a tendency to overlook Michigan, but the unbeaten Wolverines put a stop to that trend Saturday with a 61-7 rout of Indiana.

"Our goal is to go undefeated and win the Rose Bowl," said star runner Billy Taylor, who ripped the Indiana defenses for 172 yards and two touchdowns on only 11 carries, boosting his school record to 2,694 yards and coming within three of Tom Harmon's career mark of 33 touchdowns. "Then they will have to pick us No. 1. I think we're No. 1 right now."

The Wolverines currently are ranked third behind Nebraska and Oklahoma. Nebraska defeated ninth-rated Colorado 31-7 while Oklahoma overpowered Iowa State 43-12.

The top seven teams all maintained their perfect slates. Fourth-ranked Alabama trimmed Mississippi State 41-10, No. 5 Auburn downed Florida 40-7, sixth-rated Penn State took West Virginia 35-7 and Georgia, No. 7, stopped South Carolina 24-0, the third consecutive shutout turned in by the Bulldog defenders, who have permitted only 21 points in their last seven games.

The three other major unbeatens continued their winning ways, but two of them needed late field goals. Toledo, ranked 15th, upped the nation's longest winning streak to 31 games by trouncing Miami of Ohio 45-6, matching the 1948-50 Oklahoma teams for the second longest skein in modern times.

Cornell and Dartmouth, the Ivy League pacesetters, are heading for a Nov. 13 confrontation. Cornell's Ed Marinaro gained 272 yards, erasing the major college career rushing standard of Oklahoma's Steve Owens and passing the 4,000-yard barrier, but the Big Red needed John Killian's 37-yard field goal with five minutes left—after Marinaro carried the ball on nine consecutive plays—to edge Columbia 4-21. Dartmouth nipped Yale 17-15 on Ted Perry's 40-yard three-pointer with 53 seconds to play.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Arkansas suffered its second big upset, bowing to Texas A&M 17-9 behind Mark Green's two touchdowns and a defense that prevented the Razorbacks from establishing a running attack. Ohio State, ranked 10th, stopped Minnesota's Craig Curry inches short of the goal line on a disputed fourth-period two-point conversion attempt to preserve a 14-12 triumph over the Gophers.

The big news elsewhere ranged from the sublime to the tragic. Eric Allen of Michigan State set a major college record by rambling for 350 yards (he carried 29 times and scored four touchdowns) in a 43-10 rout of Purdue. Coach Jim Pittman of Texas Christian collapsed and died during his team's game with Baylor. The players, informed at halftime that Pittman was dead, rallied to defeat the Bears 34-27.

Michigan's Bo Schembechler apologized for running up 61 points on hapless Indiana. "I didn't think we would win this way," he said, "and I didn't want to. I would have liked a closer game. The coach at Indiana is one of my best friends and I didn't want to beat John (Pont) that way.

"John was not only my teammate, but my roommate at Miami of Ohio," Schembechler recalled. "He was the greatest player in Miami history. They retired his number. He's a great competitor and a class guy. I wish I have as much class as John Pont if I ever get beaten this badly."

Nebraska combined a rugged defense and Jerry Tagge's pinpoint passing to defeat Colorado, which Coach Bob Devaney called "the finest team we've played yet."

Colorado's Eddie Crowder called Nebraska "a magnificent football team," but declined to predict the outcome of the Cornhuskers' game with Oklahoma. He did say it would take "a really super game" to beat Nebraska.

Ken Johnson, the Colorado quarterback, said: "Nebraska's got the better defense, but I think Oklahoma has got the better offense. It's gonna be unreal."

For the record, Oklahoma defeated Colorado 45-17.

The Sooners rolled up 504 yards on the ground in beating Iowa State. Quarterback Jack Mildren passed for 175 yards—that's right, Oklahoma threw the ball—and two touchdowns and ran for 148 and two more scores.

"You could prepare four different game plans and they could find another way to beat you," said Coach Johnny Majors of the losers.

Alabama pulled away from Mississippi State with 24 points in the final period as Bear Bryant tied Jess Neely for fourth place on the all-time coaching list with 207 victories. Auburn also broke loose after being held to a 12-7 halftime lead and swamped Florida with Pat Sullivan and Terry Beasley teaming up on two scoring strikes.

Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris led Penn State's 250-yard ground game against West Virginia, with Mitchell scoring twice and Harris once. Hometown boy James Ray came off the bench and sparked Georgia over South Carolina at Columbia, S.C., by scoring on runs of one and 84 yards.

Tennessee, ranked 16th, swamped Tulsa 38-3, No. 17 Stanford overtook Oregon State 31-24, Houston turned back No. 19 Florida State 14-7 and No. 20 Southern Cal blanked California 28-0.

Baseball Realignment Proposed By Boston GM

BOSTON (AP) — ice President and General Manager Dick O'Connell of the Boston Red Sox had a startling proposal for re-alignment of baseball into three divisions today as general managers began a four-day huddle at Ponta Verda Beach, Fla.

"We would have the East, Midwest and West, O'Connell told baseball writer Fred Ciampa of the Record American-Sunday Advertiser before heading South.

"Leagues of eight teams would provide the best possible scheduling," O'Connell said. "We'd go from the 162 games back to the 154 games and all the teams would be in the same time zone.

"This would be better all around. It would be a boon to the news media as well as the players. The way it is now, when eastern teams play in the far west, the newspapers, radio and television stations get tha results very late. And as a result, a lot of local fans don't get the news until the next day."

O'Connell also noted that scheduling wold be much easier.

"When we're making up our schedules," we're looking for a Utopia, but that's not possible because of the difference in weather and the difference in time zones," he said.

"The West Division teams come to Boston only twice a year and if you get rain it's a job making up the dates. The same thing applies to any interleague scheduling."

O'Connell stresses he is against an interleague schedule. He also said he disliked the playoff system, requiring a team to "win over the course of a long season" and then play for the right to get into the World Series.

Under O'Connell's plan, the three divisions would be:

East—Boston, New York Yankees, New York Mets, Pittsburgh, Montreal, Detroit, Baltimore, and Philadelphia.

Midwest—Milwaukee, the Chicago White Sox and Cubs, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Cleveland and Minnesota.

West—Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Oakland, Kansas City, Houston, and Dallas-Fort Worth.

Defensive Theory

Paul Wiggin, former Cleveland Brown standout and now an assistant coach of the San Francisco 49ers, comments on defensive line play: "A defensive lineman these days has to be able to cover the field from sideline to sideline. It has become a game of activity rather than just size and brute strength. Those people who think that size is the dominant factor are living in the past. Mobility and strength are the keys now."

Ten Miles Of Streets Surfaced In Three Years

NEW MADRID — About 50 blocks of New Madrid streets have been paved in the past three years, according to City Administrator Russell Ellis and about 13 more blocks are now in the process of being surfaced in a project of the New Madrid board of aldermen that has brought streets of the city from very bad to very good condition.

Total of the work of surfacing streets, including that done by promoters of subdivisions is probably ten miles, Ellis said. The work started in 1969 and has run through summers of 1970 and 1971.

In that first year Mill and Davis streets from Highway 61 east to Crisler were curbed and guttered with concrete and paved with a soil cement base covered with asphaltic pavement and the same type construction has been done on most of the streets resurfaced in the three-year period. At the same time Crisler from Mott north to Scott was surfaced.

In the following year, Mill Street was surfaced with the curbs and gutters and asphaltic paving from Crisler east to Church and Church was paved from Davis south to Mill.

In 1970, too, Davis from Crisler east to Powell, which was already curbed, guttered and paved, received a chip and seal protective coat, and Main, also curbed and guttered, receiving a coating of asphaltic pavement from Virginia north to Route U.

During that same summer, Mott was curbed, guttered and surfaced from Crisler east to Powell and Capital from Mott north to Scott received similar improvement.

Work on seven streets has been completed so far this year and is in progress on five others currently.

Curbed, guttered and surfaced with asphaltic pavement so far this year have been Water from Church east to Line, Line from Water north to Riley, Virginia from Main east to Russell, Mill east from Main to Russell, Mott from the alley east of Main east to Line, Powell from Water north to Mill, and Ramsey Lane and Pinnell Lane in Westacres west of Highway 61 in the northwest of Highway 61 in the northwest section of the city.

Presently under contract and being worked on in various stages are Mitchell north from Riley to Route U (Dawson Road), Digges from Riley north and west to Mitchell, Pinnell from Main west to Mitchell, Church from Water north to Mill, and Kingshighway from Scott north to Pinnell.

In the meantime the State Highway Department has put an asphaltic coat on Highway 61, part of which runs through New Madrid's west side, and has widened Scott Street from Highway 61 east to Crisler. Scott from Crisler through to Main is concrete with curb and gutter.

Waters and Associates of Sikeston have been engineers for the street work in the past two years and prior to that a St. Louis engineering firm planned the work for New Madrid's streets.

The John Cowan Company has prepared streets and laid curbs and gutters this year and in the other two years, the firm of Cowan and Holman did that part of the street construction. The soil cement bases and asphaltic paving has been done by McMullin Construction Company of Sikeston.

A several block stretch of curb, gutter and asphaltic pavement has also been laid as the first street in the Westacres Subdivision, that work having been done at the expense of the subdivision. Asphaltic and concrete streets have also been laid in two other subdivisions in recent years — the Baynes and the St. Jude.

Costs of the streets in New Madrid have run from a low of $4.61 per front foot to $7.49, depending on the engineering and preparation problems, and those costs have been borne by the owners of property on the affected streets.

Clarification Of Insurance Program Asked

MALDEN — The City Council Monday night asked City Attorney Gordon Fritz to clarify the ordinance governing health insurance for officers and employees of the City of Malden.

Several members of the Council said that the ordinance is not clear and that there is a possibility some elected officials of the city are receiving coverage to which they are not entitled.

The ordinance, which was passed in 1963, is somewhat vague as to who is eligible and who isn't. It specifies that those eligible for coverage are officers and full time employees of the city. The city will pay not less than 50 per cent of the coverage for the individual.

The word "officers" is the stickler. Council members want to know if this means all elected officials and appointed officials of the city are eligible for the insurance paid for by the city.

As of now several elected city officials are covered under the insurance plan. They include Mayor Sparrel Davis, Chief of Police D. W. McMillian, Police Judge Ralph Stropp, City Collector Joann McCurter and Councilman Mart Bostic. Bostic says he is paying 100 per cent of his family coverage which is $138.12 every quarter. It is not known how much the others are paying. Individual coverage is about $52 every quarter.

City Attorney Gordon Fritz told the Press - Merit that in his opinion the best solution to the problem is a new ordinance which would spell out in detail as to who is eligible and who isn't. He said that the word officers in the present ordinance could be interpreted to mean any elected or appointed official of the city. This could become an even more costly item to the city if appointed officers of the Board of Public Works, Airport Commission, Housing Authority, Park Board, etc. were added to the insurance rolls.

Fritz says that in his opinion the intent of the ordinance is meant to cover only full time employees and full time elected officials. He said that the only full time elected official is the chief of police. Other elected officials serve only in a part time capacity.

However, he says that the present wording can be interpreted several different ways and should be clarified. Fritz indicated that he would recommend to the council that they either amend or prepare a new ordinance.

The Council met Monday night without Mayor Sparrel Davis and Mayor Pro Tem Mart Bostic .. Phil Santie served as temporary chairman.

Applications for city merchants licenses were discussed and specific reference was made in regard to merchants who have not provided a sales tax report as requested. The matter was tabled until after the deadline to purchase a license which is Dec. 31.

A four -way stop sign was authorized to be installed at the intersection of Indiana Street and Second Avenue.

Chief of Police Woody McMillian reported that car number ten has gone bad. The Council asked City Clerk Roscoe Thornton to check with Councilman Mart Bostic to see if there is a guarantee on the engine.

Frank Cowell, atreet commissioner, was authorized to purchase 50 tons of chat to mix black top before cold weather.

Government Publishes Name Brand's List

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an effort to share its shopping knowledge with consumers, the government has prepared a list by brand name of 350 items it buys.

But the General Services Administration, which does most of the buying, says the list may be of only limited use to the average consumer.

"We are anxious to share what information we have," says GSA Administrator Robert L. Kunzig. "But as we have repeatedly stressed, we don't have the comparative brand test data that some people think we have."

Besides listing the products it buys, the government said it is providing consumers with a description of the qualities it demands in each product.

The list, being offered free through the GSA in Washington and 27 federal information centers in major cities around the country, includes a wide variety of common household items such as toothpaste, lightbulbs, laundry detergents and appliances.

It also includes such things as spark plus, tires, tools, floor tile, paint, adhesives, pencils, lawn mowers and antifreeze.

1—In Memoriam

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband, Leon Swinney, who passed away November 6, 1970.
I often sit and think of you,
And then of how you died;
To think you could not say good-by
Before you closed your eyes.
Our hearts still ache at losing you,
We still can't believe it's true.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought your death was so near;
But only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Perhaps its just as well,
We never could have said good-bye
To the Dad we loved so well.
Darling, life has no meaning without you,
I miss you night and day;
Whether I'm at home, or far away.
So, I'll do God's will and travel on,
Until I meet you some sweet day.
Sadly missed by wife, Tillie Swinney and children.

FIRST CLASS GRADUATES FROM NEW PATROL ACADEMY

JEFFERSON CITY -- The life of a state Highway Patrol recruit isn't an easy one. The 39 members of the recruit-training class that graduated October 15 had to meet the patrol's stiff physical and mental requirements and complete six months of rigorous training involving more than 1,000 work-hours.

But it isn't exactly like getting poked in the eye with a sharp stick, either. During training the recruits went to class in carpeted classrooms, ate in a sparkling new cafeteria, and slept in color - coordinated dormitory rooms.

The class was the first to be trained at the new Highway Patrol Law Enforcement Academy in Jefferson City. Completed in May, the $2.5 million complex is a self - contained community including a dormitory, gymnasium and classroom building. The dormitory can sleep 120 men, and most of the classrooms are arranged for 40 students. The cafeteria can easily accomodate all the students, and there also are game rooms, a post office, snack bar and laundry.

More than 2,000 state law enforcement personnel are expected to use the academy during the coming year for a variety of training programs.

"We couldn't be happier with the facilitiess," Lt. J. H. Dickson, the patrol's training officer, says. "You might find bigger law enforcement training facilities, but you won't find better in the country."

Emphasis at the academy is on training, and the classrooms include the latest teaching tools. For example, two classrooms include a multi-media device that permits the instructor, at the flip of a switch, to incorporate tapes, movies and slides into his lecture. The process can be automated and an entire lecture, illustrated with movies and slides, can be given without an instructor in the room. The lights even dim automatically when the movie starts.

The classrooms also have a device for immediate testing of the students. At each desk is a panel with three buttons. The instructor can ask a question with three possible answers and when a student pushes the button corresponding to his answer, a light will indicate if he is correct. The instructor has a master panel in front of him which tells him immediately which students got the correct answer.

"These devices have greatly improved our teaching technique," Lt. Dickson says. "The multi-media possibility enables us to involve the student more, and because he might be tested at any time, he pays more attention to the lecture."

Additionally, the classrooms have been equipped to use videotape recordings, and there is even a small television studio so academy personnel can make their own tapes.

Physical fitness also is emphasized at the academy. There is a fully equiipped gymnasium with facilities for basketball, volleyball, gymnastics and boxing, and a sauna bath for those who need to swear off a few pounds.

The swimming pool is called a "training tank". "Some of our recruits don't know how to swim,'" Lt. Dickson explains, "so we teach them. All recruits get water safety instruction, a very important part of our training program."

For weapons training, the academy has an armory, weapons cleaning facilities, and a fully automated pistol range.

"The important point about our facilities is that they're not only for the Highway Patrol, but for all the state's law enforcement agencies. Police departments, sheriff's departments and liquor control, boat commission and campus security personnel all may use them," Lt. Dickson emphasizes.

During the 1971 fiscal year the academy will offer more than 20 courses in police training which will be open to agencies other than the Highway Patrol. The training is state supported and is offered at no cost to the officer or agency except for transportation to and from the academy.

Courses include narcotics, accident investigation, traffic management, radio communications, Breathalyzer and basic and advanced police training. The instructors come from both the Highway Patrol staff and the participating agencies.

Goeppinger Wants Action on Dock Strike

BOONE, Iowa (AP) — Walter Goeppinger, president of the National Corn Growers Association, wants President Nixon to take immediate action to end the dock strike at major ports.

In a telegram Wednesday night to Mr. Nixon, Goeppinger pointed out that "Corn storage facilities at many points in the Cornbelt are full and much of the balance of the corn crop now cannot be harvested due to lack of a place to put it.

"Now our grain ports are closed by strikes and corn prices reduced due to a market glut and log jam that cannot be broken until the strike is settled," he wrote.

The farm organization chief pointed out that "This is the first time in 10 years that the Taft-Hartley law has not been invoked by the President when strikes have occurred at ports during harvest. Every day of the strike is a permanently lost market for corn farmers and foreign exchange dollars lost to the United States."

Goeppinger declared "It is high time that you correct the situation and do it immediately."

Goeppinger told The Associated Press "in most cases farmers will just stop harvesting" if the dock strike does not end soon.

"Elevators are full," he noted. "There is a limited market to ship it—corn—to."

He said some farmers "on the marginal edge will be liquidated ... and may not be able to stay in farming next year."

Pop Wants To Visit Child

THE CASE OF THE DEPRIVED FATHER

Unmarried, Esther and Pete lived together for several years as bohemians, not knowing where their next bath was coming from nor caring. Esther gave birth to a bouncing baby boy and, deciding the bohemian way of life offered no future for her son, she bounced back home to mother and refused to allow Pete to see their son. Dismayed, Pete started a legal proceeding to obtain visitation rights.

"He's my son, I love him and I'm entitled to see him," he argued in court. "And, because Esther has decided to change her style of living should be no bar. Her conscience can't be my guide."

"Since the child's illegitimate," was Esther's response, "Pete has no right to see him. Besides, it's bad enough he's illegitimate without having to associate with illegitimate people. A boy should be brought up gracefully and not disgracefully."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit deprived Pete to see his son?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that although Esther and Pete never chose to marry, their son was the product of their "family" relationship and not the result of a rape or other forceful conduct. As a general proposition, a child is entitled to the love and affection of both parents when available. And, in this case, concluded the judge in effect, Pete is desirous of providing same and consequently, despite the illegitimacy of the child, and because it's in the best interests if the child, he should be allowed to see him. Three Youths Die In Fiery Crash Of Auto

CAMPBELL — Three Campbell boys were burned to death after the trio was trapped in a car which overtuned on an embankment at 1:43 a.m. today.

Killed were Garold Dewayne White, 17, Earl Leroy Dickens, 20, and James Donald Summers, 17.

The fatalities occurred, the highway patrol said, on highway 53, four miles north of Campbell, when a 1965 Plymouth traveling north, driver unidentified, was going at a high rate of speed when a rear tire went flat causing the car to hurtle into a steep embankment and overturn.

Another youth, Harold D. Perkins, 18, of Malden, was thrown from the car. He sustained a fractured elbow and burns and was taken to Doctors hospital in Poplar Bluff. He is reported in serious condition.

White was born March 2, 1954 in St. Joseph, the son of Mrs. Mary White.

Survivors include his mother; eight brothers, Marion Richard and Billie White, both of Campbell, Bobby White of Poplar Bluff, Eddie, Jimmie, Jackie, and Harold White, all of St. Joseph, and Albert White of the state of California; and three sisters, Mrs. Frances Despain and Mrs. Mary Mignery, both of Rushville, and Mrs. Sarah Ellington of Poplar Bluff.

Graveside services were at 4:30 p.m. today at Elder cemetery with the Rev. James Marlar officiating.

Dickens was born Dec. 25, 1950 in Campbell, the son of Mrs. Lorene Dickens.

Survivors include his mother; two sisters, Emmajean and Mary Elsie Dickens, and two brothers, Lloyd Dickens of Campbell and Spc. 4 Charles J. Dickens of Fort Hood, Tex.

Graveside services were at 1:30 p.m. today at Elder cemetery with the Rev. Harold Mills officiating.

Summers was born June 3, 1954 in Campbell, a son of Mrs. Audrey Wilson.

Survivors include his mother; his stepfather, Joe Wilson of Campbell; one brother, Kenneth Lizenbee of Campbell; two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Hall of Memphis and Mrs. Beverly Spears of Piggott, Ark.; and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Etha Oliver of Campbell.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Landess funeral chapel with the Rev. Howard Harmon officiating.

Burial will be in Gunnels cemetery.

CHRISTIE SWANN, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Swann, 309 Kramer Drive, was crowned 1971 Homecoming Queen during ceremonies at the homecoming dance Saturday night. Peggy McMullin, 1970 queen, places the crown. Miss Swann's attendent was Chuck Clinton.

Possibly More Lives Lost

Radio Reports 10,000 Dead

NEW DELHI (AP) — A 16foot tidal wave swept through villages along the Bay of Bengal last Friday and local political leaders estimated, after a tour of the area, that 15,000 persons, perhaps as many as 20,000, had perished.

The Indian government radio put the total at 10,000.

It reported that at least a million homes had been destroyed or damaged so severely as to leave 4 million persons homeless in the newest disaster to afflict the Indian subcontinent.

The Cuttack and Balasore districts of eastern Orissa State, 150 miles southeast of Calcutta, appeared to be the areas hardest hit by the tidal wave and accompanying cyclonic winds of up to 100 miles an hour.

The Times of India, in a dispatch from Cuttack, said air drops of food were urgently required in some areas where all roads, rail lines and air strips had been flooded or destroyed.

The low-lying coastal villages are the target of annual cyclonic storms and tidal waves that roar in from the Bay of Bengal and devastate an impoverished region of East Pakistan and India in which the inhabitants survive on a bare subsistence diet even in the best of times.

A storm and tidal wave last November killed at least 300,000 persons in the Ganges river basin in East Pakistan 300 miles northeast of the disaster area this weekend.

The weekend storm passed Sunday from Orissa to neighboring West Bengal state, destroying homes and rice crops in coastal villages that only two months ago were ravaged by the annual monsoon floods.

The area in West Bengal is filled with East Pakistani refugee camps, but initial reports said most of the camps had escaped the brunt of the storm.

Orissa is mostly a hilly region where the annual rainfall is 40-60 inches. Several mountain streams and rivers provide flood water irrigation. As in West Bengal, to the northeast, rice is among the most important crops.

The area of East Pakistan and India around the Bay of Bengal has been called "Cyclone Alley," where storms hit in the spring and the fall with a devastating regularity. Historians say 300,000 persons died in the Bay of Bengal area from storms and tidal waves in 1737. More recent bad years include 1960, 1963, 1965 and 1969.

Last year's tidal wave that killed 300,000 persons in East Pakistan was described by one witness as having a cold luminous glow like "the flickering light of an unfocused television tube."

Thirteen Army Units Phased Out

SAIGON (AP) -- Thirteen more U.S. Army units totaling 1,335 men were phased out of combat today, prior to withdrawal from Vietnam, and the U.S. Command said American troop strength in the country was reduced to 196,700 men last week.

Informed sources disclosed that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is bringing to Saigon Wednesday a broad outline of President Nixon's plan to speed up the disengagement of U.S. ground forces from the war.

The sources speculated that the Nixon administration is thinking in terms of a residual force of 40,000 to 50,000 troops — and perhaps less -- by July 1. Laird will spend three days in Saigon meeting with U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of American forces in Vietnam, President Nguyen Van Thieu and other Vietnamese officials.

The troop strength figure of 196,700 men, the lowest since January 1966, does not include the 1,335 phased out today nor another 2,890 which the U.S. Command announced had been moved out of combat zones in connection with the deactivation Sunday of the Americal Division. Deactivation of the Americal leaves only one full U. S. combat division in Vietnam, compared to the equivalent of 11 1/3 divisions at the peak of the war.

Today the Saigon government observed South Vietnam's National Day with prayers for peace and tributes to the 135,000 government troops killed in action since 1960. The holiday, eighth anniversary of the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem, was designated a day of prayers for peace.

American forces were on a special alert in anticipation of enemy attacks during the holiday and the inauguration of President Nguyen Van Thieu Sunday. But the battlefields were reported quiet, and it was disclosed that U.S. air strikes are at their lowest level this year.

Informed sources said Air Force fighter - bombers averaged only 10 missions per day last week, compared to more than double that number the week before.

Pistol Shot Fatal

Thomas Gray of 311 Petty was shot fatally Saturday night as he stood on Osage Street in Sunset Addition. Police said the man was shot once in the back of the head apparently with large caliber pistol. He was taken to the Missouri Delta Community Hospital and transferred to a Memphis hospital, where he died Sunday morning.

Police arrested Eugene Harris of route one Benton for questioning , but they said Harris denies the killing. He was arrested on Osage Street Saturday night and when police informed him that he was under arrest they charged he reached into his shirt and started to pull a knife on them. An eight-inch butcher knife was taken from him and he was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Harris charged another unidentified man with the killing. One report was that the unidentified man was firing a pistol on Osage Street Saturday night and may have struck Gray by accident.

Residents of Osage street reported hearing shots fired Saturday night.

Wrecks Injure 3

Two one vehicle accidents during Halloween weekend resulted in four injuries.

At 7 a.m. Saturday eight miles north of Miner on Interstate 55, a 1968 tractor-trailer going south driven by Douglas Wayne MacDonald, 25, of Memphis, struck a dirt embankment. MacDonald sustained a fractured nose and back when he apparently went to sleep, the highway patrol said and lost control of the vehicle.

He was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

On highway 25 two miles north of Malden at 2 p.m. Sunday, a 1971 GMC truck traveling south, driven by Charles Doyle Williams, 33, of Malden, went out of control and overturned, the patrol said, after a rear axle broke.

The driver, his wife, Gail, 33, and his son, Ronnie 11, sustained minor injuries. They were taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital in Kennett.

Girl Charges Rape

An 18-year-old Lilbourn girl told police Sunday that a 66-year-old Sunset Addition resident raped her twice Sunday morning. The girl, Willie Strickland, signed a complaint charging Annise Davis with the assault.

The Lilbourn girl told police Davis offered her a ride to Lilbourn at 4:30 a.m. Sunday, she accepted and got into his car. Instead of driving to Lilbourn, the girl charges Davis drove west of Sunset parked the car near the side of the road and forced her from the car at gun point.

She said he placed a single barrel shotgun to her back and forced her into a nearby field and there had intercourse with her twice. She accused him of holding her at gunpoint during the alleged assault.

Patrolman Otis Applewhite spotted the two parked near the Compress Road Sunday morning, but said the girl did not cry for help of give any indication that assistance was needed.

Applewhite said he later saw the girl alone in the automobile but she did not call for help.

Following the complaint, Davis was arrested in the Sunset and brought to the police station where he is being held pending investigation. A single barrel shotgun was found in the trunk of his car when he was arrested.

Mall Theft Arrest Made

Police have arrested a 15-year-old East St. Louis boy and charged him with the early Saturday morning burglary of the J.C. Penney Co. store and the Gun and Smoke Shop in the Kingsway Plaza Mall.

The youth was arrested at he Post House east of Miner Saturday at 10 a.m. by officer Odis Applewhite. Applewhite had questioned the boy earlier but returned to question him again. The information the youth gave the officer during the first questioning differed with information given later and Applewhite brought the boy to the police station where the arrest was made.

The boy told police he arrived at the Post House at 1 a.m. Saturday and rode in a taxi from the Post House to the Holiday Inn. From the Holiday Inn the boy walked to the mall where he was accused of breaking a west side window and to enter the building. Once inside he broke a glass door at the J.C. Penney store.

When a burglar alarm sounded he fled from the building to a cottonfield. He said he hid in the field nearly 30 minutes but when no one came to investigate he reentered the building and began to haul merchandise from the building and store it in the field.

Police said the boy told them he used his suitcase to haul several rifles and handguns from the store.

Three or four trips were made into the building, the boy said, and most of the loot was hidden in the field.

When a janitor arrived the boy left the building for the final time and walked from the mall to city park, where he waited until daylight. He then walked back to the bus terminal and was awaiting a bus when officer Applewhite arrested him.

When arrested the youth police said, was carrying a .45 caliber pistol taken from the Gun and Smoke Shop and a watch taken from Penny's. Other items including another watch and pistol were found in his luggage.

At least five pistols taken during the burglary were not recoverd. Police said the investigation is continuing.

The boy said he was the sole participant in the burglary but police said another youth may have been involved.

Policeman Fired Friday

Patrolman Larry Coatney, who has been under attack, was dismissed from the polic department Friday for conduct unbecoming a police officer. Coatney was named by two former police men as the patrolman who maced 17-year-old Byron Klingel when Klingel was being held in the city jail.

Bill Clark and James Watkins had accused him of the mace attack. Mace is a chemical used by police as a spray to incapicitate a criminal.

Klingel had earlier charged Coatney and as many as three other officers maced him from 15 to 20 times during 35 days in the jail on a theft charge.

Police Chief Arthur Bruce, who also came under attack by officers, said Coatney was dismissed primarily or two reasons.

Bruce said the Klingel incident played a large part in Coatney's dismissal. Coatney, who was not available for comment this morning, was has denied the incident. Bruce said that if the macing incident did occur it was possibly meant as a prank Klingel and Coatney were reported to be close friends.

Bruce sadi Coatney's dismissal also steemed from reports that he was associating with unsavory characters. One report indicated that Coatney was smoking marijuana in a patrol car but Bruce said that Coatney denied the charge. A seed which may have been marijuana was found in Coatney's briefcase and ashes, possibly containing marijuana, were taken from the ashtray of Coatney's patrol car. Bruce said Coatney is under investigation for possession of marijuana. He is not being held.

City manager Raymert Miller would not confirm or deny reports that Coatney was dismissed because he was under suspicion of smoking marijuana in a police car.

Red Flag Flies Above U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The gold-starred red flag of Communist China was hoisted for the first time at U.N. headquarters today.

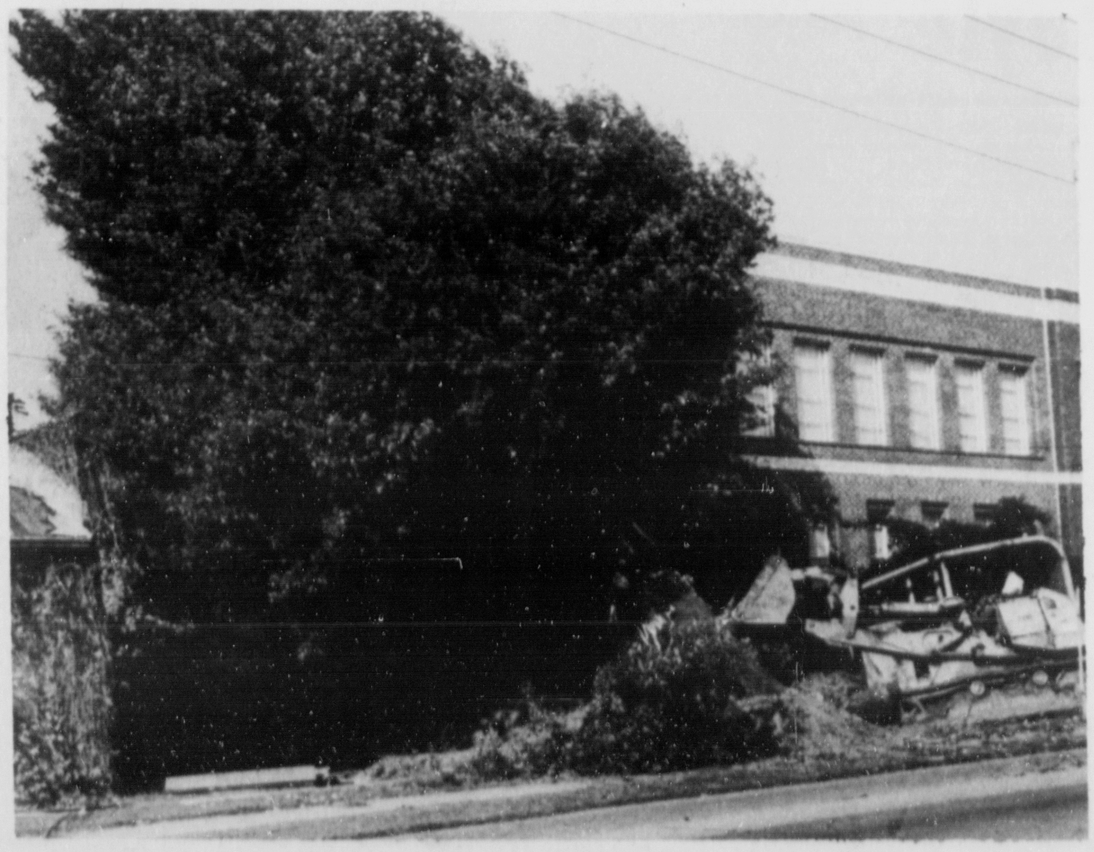
the historic task fell to two Americans, Willard Bodie, 28, and George Baldwin, 28, who with 10 other blue-uniformed U.N. guards routinely raise the flags of all 131 member countries each weekday morning.

The guards raised the bloodred flag of China for the first time since the nation was voted into the U.N. a week ago. The flags are in alphabetical order and China's is 23rd.

A 30-strong crowd of news photographers and television cameramen provided the only color in a light drizzle under leaden skies.

Acting Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei messaged SecretaryGeneral U Thant Sunday that his country should be listed on the U.N. rolls "with the English letter 'C' at the beginning, that is, China, Peopie's Republic of."

That meant that Peking's seat in the General Assembly hall and its flag on the poles outside would, like Nationalist China's before, be between Chile's and Colombia's instead of down in the P's. The flagpole had been flagless since Chiang Kai-shek's government was expelled from the United Nations on Oct. 25.



A LARGE PINOAK came tumbling down Saturday morning in front of the division 10 highway department office, in the highway widening project on Main street and highway 61. Both the flagpole and front steps will be moved. Arlon Maevers, construction inspector, said the steps will be turned to the north at the entrance.

CONSOLATION FOR CONSERVATIVES

Although the media desperately attempts to convince everyone that conservatism is unpopular and a perspective of the past, two recent reports contradict them.

According to the Gallup Poll taken after President Nixon's economic announcement, the President is ahead of his three leading Democratic Party rivals as the public's choice for the presidency in 1972. In a similar poll last June, Nixon trailed Sen. Edmund Muskie and barely edged Sen. Edward Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey. In the latest poll, Nixon led all three by at least 5 per cent.

The second report indicates that Nixon is not conservative enough. The Young Americans for Freedom, a conservative youth group claiming 70,000 members, voted overwhelmingly to suspend its support of President Nixon, and in a mock presidential nomination picked Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for 1972.

The media's efforts to discredit conservatism are possibly counter-productive. The fact that the majority of Americans today favor a conservative candidate indicates the concerted efforts of the media to brainwash the public have failed. It is a healthy sign that most Americans can recognize propaganda when they meet it. Conservatism is far more popular among the American people than our media would lead us to believe.

PLEA TO THE AMERICAN TAXPAYERS

Otto E. Passman (Dem.-La.), chairman of the House Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations, has sent out a letter-bulletin to some editors and many taxpayers calling attention to the wastefulness of our Foreign Aid Program.

We quote a portion of his letter:

"Our government is continuing to dissipate your resources and wealth in foreign nations all over the world. This unconscionable practice is destroying our world markets, destroying the value of the American dollar and placing an unbearable public debt upon the shoulders of unborn generations. This practice of giving away your wealth is creating inflation and reducing the purchasing power of your dollar which is the equivalent to confiscating your savings. I must speak out again and say forthrightly that the good claimed for this program is not supported by the facts ...

"There are approximately Fifty Billion U.S. Dollars floating around in foreign countries. We do not have the gold to redeem these dollars, so they are surplus to the needs of foreign nations for commerce. Do not blame the present Administration for this unbelievable situation because it has been building up for 25 years. The habit of giving away our wealth is so ingrained in the minds of the bureaucrats who give away this money that they cannot overcome the addiction. So, those of us who know the facts must now spread this news throughout the nation and plead for support so as to bring this outlandish, wasteful, ever-growing addiction under control, or else someday surely regret our neglect."

Total net disbursements to foreign nations, 1946 -1971, were $138,446,200,000. Total net interest paid on what we have borrowed to give away, 1946-1971, were $74,434,597,000. Of the three-and-half billion people of the world, all but 36 million have received aid from the U.S.

Can it be denied that our country has substituted dollars for a sound foreign policy, aid for trade, appeasement for firmness? We have become so addicted to this formula that it is no longer even suggested that it be stopped.

Only the American taxpayers have the power to stop it, says Rep. Passman, and he needs our help to gain more support in Congress to curtail and eliminate the Foreign Aid program.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Air pollution may cause another ice age, warns a Japanese meteorologist, Dr. Tadashi Yano. He says that in the last 30 years wasse particles in the atmosshere have already blocked enough ssnlight to cause the average world temperature to drop nearly one degree.

Earthquake damage iss't limited to California or Alaska. Scientists say major destructive quakes can occur in at least 19 other states. They are Nevada, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Misssuri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, New York, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts.

You don't have to have, money to buy things in Barrow, America's northernmost settlement. Stores there will accept pelts and whale meat as payment.

How much do you spend for food? The average American spends 16.4 per cent of his dissosable income for food. In England the figure is 26 per cent; in West Germany, 28 per cent; in France, 31 per cent; in Japan, 40 per cent; in Russsa, 50 per cent.

Quotable notables: "In the end, it will be the family way of life that will persevere. The family changes, but it will never disappear. Every attempt to eliminate the family has failed."—Margaret Mead.

Lower than lower: If you want to get away from it all, one of the best places to go would be at the bottom of the Mariana Trench in the Pacific Ocean. According to the National Geographic Society, that is the globe's greatest watery depth at 36,198 feet.

Finny Marksmen: Some fish can shoot down their prey. One variety, the archer fish of Australia, is only nine inches but can fire a jet of water that will bring down an insect three to four feet away. The fish does it by filling its mouth with water, then flapping its gills shut sharply.

The cross victorious: What finally caused the Roman Empire to fall? Many believe it was the rise of Chrissianity, which turned peple's minds from war and obedience to the state to thoughts of peace and individual salvation.

Worth remembering: "Most girls are looking for a man who is tall, dark and has some."

Know your language: Ever wonder where the word "spinster" comes from. It literally means "one who spins." It was the custom in medieval Britain for unmarried girls to spend their time spinning. Since the 17th century it has been applied to unwed women past the usual age of marriage.

3½ BILLION PEP PILLS BOUGHT IN '70

Last year Americans purchased three and one-half billion pep pills and almost as many tranquilizers, according to Samuel B. Gould, Chancellor, State University of New York.

In an Albany Medical College commencement address he said, "We seem increasingly to prefer the self-imposed chemical pollution of our bodies to the really tough confrontation of our minds with our huge social problems. With growing hypocrisy we preach the urgent need for greater intelligence, concern for others and sustained social action; and then we cop out with a trip into personal gratification or self-pity, replacing constructive efforts with freak-outs, rationality with sensations...This rejection of history and disregard of the future, leaving only the now as life's essential element, this fever pitch of emotionalism, hedonism, and righteous moralism, however stimulated—these have become distinguishing features of our society."

BUOY REPLACES MEN

A Large Navigational Buoy (LNB) has been ordered bythe Coast Guard to replace lightships along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Unmanned and built at a cost of $250,000 each, they will replace a $2.5 million lightship and a crew of 15 to 19 men as well as support personnel.

The buoy weighs 104 tons, measures 40 feet in diameter which supports a 38-foot tower housing a 7,500 candlepower light and a radio beacon antenna. It is diesel-powered.

THE HUMANITIES SERIES DOUBLED

The National Humanities Series, a program designed to take humanities presentations to small communities, has begun its second year of operation with the number of presentations nearly doubled.

The National Endowment for Humanities underwrites the cost of the series, and the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation plans and administers the programs.

The series will reach approximately 55 communities in 32 states and present three related themes, "Justice—Trial and Error", a study of man's quest for an orderly community; "Stop, Look and Listen," an exploration of the humanities through the media of music, films television, drama, art and literature; and "Face to Face," an inquiry into how and why men create.

The series, according to a spokesman, encourages informality, interaction, dialogue and a shared experience between the presentation team and the audience.

MR. AGNEW'S RETURN

"You possess another rare quality in our times - to speak on every occasion the language of truth." So went the toast at a dinner in Athens in honor ofthe son of Theofrastos Agnostopoulos, otherwise known in American households as Spiro Agnew.

The Vice President did not let his hosts down. He described George Papadopoulos, Greece's junta-appointed premier, as a "highly intelligent man who intends to return his country to representative government." This recalls another trip the Vice President made last July to a string of autocratically-ruled nations after which he declard that he was "very impressed" with such leaders as Emperor Haile Selassie and Gen. Joseph D. Mobutu and urged American black leaders to,"learn from them."

The Vice President singled out the Greek regime's achievement in the field of public education as exemplary. Obviously no one told him that one of the junta's first steps on taking over the government was to reduce compulsory education from nine years to five years. The Vice President also chose to ignore the Greek generals' initial ban of books and plays by a number of ancient and renowned Greek writers and philosophers.

We grant that a guest of a dictatorship may find it difficult to find something to praise, but Mr. Agnew found it too easy to praise the wrong things.——Post-Dispatch.

H.L. Hunt

Our loyal and faithful ally for many years, the Nationalist Government of China, has been eliminated as a member of the United Nations and is being replaced by the communist regime of Peking which acquired its power through violence and by a lack of resolution of freedom-loving people around the world to halt aggression. A lack of resolution for the cause of justice has shown through again at the U.N. as Taiwan was expelled and Red China seated. The best our friends could do was bow out voluntarily before the expulsion was made official.

Our representative at the U. N. was active before the vote trying to round up some support for the solid, legal case of Chiang Kai-shek, but at the same time our all-powerful ambassador at large, Henry Kissinger, was in Peking dealing with the communists. This has been typical of our China policy through the years. But the double talk and compromise that is so evident puts us in great peril since mainland China now has nuclear capability.

The Albanian ambassador at the U.N. said: "Today's vote has demonstrated the great role that the world recognizes for the people of (communist) China." He didn't mention that the role theyhave followed so far has been one of aggression. The Albanian and many others have forgotten a requirement for membership. The charter says it shall be made up of "peace-loving nations."

Despite the action at the U.N. and our courting Peking, people in this Republic and freedom-lovers everywhere ought to speak firmly for 14 million who find themselves beleaguered on the island of Taiwan. Governments can change courses and all those nations that once recognized the perils of communism should stand up and be recounted.

Washington-Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON-- Despite pious protestations to the contrary, the Nixon Administration has been hounding the 80-year-old former Speaker, John McCormack, who retired from public life last January with a presidential plaque.

President Nixon proclaimed his "great admiration and respect" for McCormack, and White House press secretary Ron Ziegler solemnly denied that the Administration was investigating McCormack's activities. Yet on September 13, two U.S. Attorneys, Richard Ben-Veniste and W. Cullen MacDonald, paid a quiet call on the old man and grilled him about a hardship discharge he had sought for a Navy enlisted man.

The two investigators finally agreed not to bait the grieving McCormack in his hospital room where he is keeping a lonely vigil at the bedside of his beloved wife Harriet. During more than 50 years of marriage, he has never spent a night apart from her. Now he has moved into Washington's Providence Hospital where he sits day after day beside the life-long companion who, sadly, seldom recognizes him.

McCormack balked at answering the gunshoes' questions at the hospital for fear it might upset his wife. So arrangements for the interview were made at the Washington law office of his nephew, Edward McCormack.

The former Speaker's answers will be presented to a federal grand jury in Miami. His former aide, Doctor Martin Sweig, will also be brought to Miami from the federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., for questioning tomorrow (November 2).

We exposed how Sweig, using McCormack's name and sometimes imitating his voice, fixed federal cases for a five percenter named Nathan Voloshen. Sweig is now serving a 30-month sentence for perjury.

We emphasized, however, that our investigation showed no skulduggery by the former Speaker. He did government favors for his friends and constituents in the tradition of South Boston's "Last Hurrah" politics. But we could find no evidence that he ever took a penny for these favors. On the contrary, he carefully segregated his personal and congressional accounts, scrupulously paying all personal postage, telephone calls and other bills out of his own pocket. He routinely turned down campaign contributions, since he had almost no campaign expenses

INVESTIGATION DENIED

We reported that the Nixon Administraton, nevertheless, was conducting a criminal investigation of McCormack at the same time that President Nixon honored him at a White House luncheon. Our story brought an angry denial from Press Secretary Ron Zielger, who called in reporters to tell them:

"I very seldom do this, but I want to give you this bit of information that appeared in a column by Jack Anderson....I would like to volunteer and state quite categorically that any allegations that the Nixon Administration tried in any way to seek or to pin criminal charges on Speaker McCormack, as the column suggests, is totally and absolutely false and without any foundation whatsoever."

Ziegler added, for extra emphasis, that he had "talked withthe Attorney General" who confirmed that the Justice Department was not investigating McCormack.

Yet even as Ziegler was issuing his categorical denial, a federal grand jury in New York City was trying to pin criminal charges upon the retiring Speaker. Three of McCormack's closest friends, who had been invited to the White House luncheon in his honor, were subpoenaed before the grand jury just a few days after listening to the President praise McCormack and present him with a plaque.

The three were Rubin Epstein, president of Boston's City Bank and Trust; George Feldman, former ambassador to Malta and Luxembourg; and Peter Clohérty, consultant for a Boston engineering firm. They were asked whether they had ever given McCormack any payments or gifts in return for government favors.

RECORDS SUBPOENAED

The grand jury also subpoenaed McCormack's financial records from the Boston City Bank and demanded all the Cloherty firm's records relating to federal contracts. The testimony completely exonerated McCormack, and the bank records showed he had only a modest savings account. The old man's total net worth, an accumulation of a lifetime, was estimated around $100,000.

A few days ago, the Justice Department's Richard Ben-Veniste turned up in Boston where he is still prying into McCormack's affairs. He went through the Speakers' private papers which are stored at Boston University. McCormack had willingly given him permission to examine them. The U.S. Attorney made off with a file dealing with a hardship discharge for H.A. Keller, Jr., son of a Miami industrialists. The young man had sought to get out of the Navy in 1959 because of his wife's poor health.

The Justice Department's gumshoes also questioned McCormack about his relationship with Michael Silbert of Miami. They asked whether he had accepted any payments, gifts or contributions from Silbert for seeking Keller's discharge. The ex-Speaker replied that he had known Silbert for 15 years but had never accepted anything more substantial from him than a box of cigars.

The Justice Department, meanwhile, has offered to help soften Sweig's sentence in return for his "cooperation." Sweig's attorney, Paul Smith, told us the inference, if never stated outright, was that Sweig should give evidence against McCormack.

This is what has happened since Ziegler, in behalf of the President and Attorney General, denied our story about the investigation of McCormack. It may give the public an idea as to the worth of a White House denial.

Inside Labor

Snub To Tito And Mao: labor chiefs say UN is dead; will fight to cut funds for Global H.Q.

WASHINGTON: - Poor Alice. Few bother now about her wonderland. But no one, really, need bother with old fantasies any longer. Not when that old Marxist, Josip Broz Tito, chief of the League of Yugoslav Communists, is wined and dined by the cream of American capitalism in the White House and is snubbed by American labor.

Not that President Nixon and Marshall Tito didn't try to convince the labor leaders to come to dinner --right up to the last moment. There were direct calls from the White House to the AFL—CIO. And indirect emissaries from the Yugoslav foreign office. It just did not look good in Marchall Tito's Third World not to have working -class representation at the unproletarian festivities for the 79-year-old revolutionist who went to theWhite House on an anti-Israeli Mission.

Basically labor did not come because its leaders considered Josip Broz a killer who never changed. And, in effect, it now can be disclosed they said as much at a secret meeting in the White House on Oct. 13, 1970. That day, just about a year ago, there gathered around Mr. Nixon, at his invitation, his own foreign affairs specialists and Mr. Meany's. Thus, with the Chief Executive were Secretary of State Rogers and Chuck Colson, while in the labor contingent was the legendary Jay Lovestone, who once defied Stalin to his face, and the AFL-CIO's whirlwindish African specialist Irving Brown.

The discussion had turned to labor's relations with visiting dignitaries. Meany said that labor would not attend any dinner or reception tendered to any dictatorial head of state. Mr. Rogers blustered. But the President cut in quickly. That's the way it would be, he said, adding he could understand. But he had no intention of not cultivating the Titos of the world.

At that moment, labor still was Mr. Nixon's most powerfulforeign policy support bloc. In Congress and on the streets --or has everyone forgotten the legions of hard hats?

But deeply etched bitterness on labor's part replaced that momentary fraternity. Publicly and privately, George Meany has assailed the President in words hurled at no other man in the White House since Theodore Roosevelt moved up. Not the least of what Meany has said is that the President dispatched security adviser Henry Kissinger "to sit in Chou (En-lai)'s lap."

Where, then, will Mr. Nixon get his support in the Congress onsuch matters as ballistic missile financing as he did from labor two years ago?

What will now develop in the United Nations when the International Labor Organization (ILO), for example, automatically expels the Republic of China?

Indeed, what will happen to the UN itself? The AFL—CIO has just said, in so many words,the global organization is dead. In a statement issued by Meany after the expulsion of Taiwan, the 13.6 million-member AFL—CIO hits at the UN andthe President and the mission to China as no other powerful American organization ever has.

In recent months, says the unreported statement, American foreign policy has "been geared, with mounting frequency, to a course of appeasement especially in such pivotal areas as the Asian mailand, Central Europe and the Middle East. The spectacle of the President's personal representative in Peking making overtures to the representative of Red China at a time when the U.S. was supposed to be supporting the Nationalist Chinese in the UN was not lost on many of the smaller nations who must of necessity look to the bigger powers for their security."

The expulsion vote, says Meany, "has dealt a fatal blow to the UN as an instrument of international harmony, peace and freedom...The confidence of the American people in this world body has been gravely damaged...This action can only foster among the peoples of of the world an attitude of paralyzing distrust in the UN which had once inspired them with hope for a world free from war, tyranny and poverty."

There's no doubt now that the AFL-CIO will back moves to trim the UN budget which is estimated at $207.8 million for 1972. The U.S. pays 31.52 per cent of the UN central secretariat bill---which does not include millions more for special agencies such as the ILO. Thus the American share of UN carrying charges in '72 will be put at nearly $65 million when new personnel are included --meaning new and large contingents of Communist Chinese.

American labor chiefs don't want some special agencies' funds cut--such as money for the UN Industrial Development Organization, etc. But there are over 5,500 employes in in the glass tower on New York's East River. They live well. They rarely put in long hours. They are well paid, Few of them could earn half as much back home since most of them are foreign nationals.

And many of them are from nations which voted against the U.S. though both labor and the U.S. government dragged them out of the muck of European colonialism -- such as in Guyena, on the northern South American coast. From now on many of the foreign labor leaders who became prime ministers, such as the ungrateful Guyanese premier, can stew in their own bankruptcies.

After being infiltrated and shot at by Peking agents, they voted against the forces which saved them. Now they can run for their lives on their own.

Fulbright Predicts Stopgap Aid Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee confers today amid the ruins of the U.S. foreign aid program to start deciding whether, when and how to put it back together.

Committee chairman Sen. J.W. Fulbright predicted Senate approval of a stopgap aid program, although he said the committee may do no more than discuss the alternatives today.

President Nixon let it be known he wants temporary extension of a coordinated aid bill while he drafts a new assistance program.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott also urged passage of an interim program and called on Congress to develop a new bill "to keep the peace." He said he supports temporary extension of aid at existing levels.

The prospect was that major portions of the program would indeed be salvaged despite the Senate vote that killed a bill authorizing $2.9 billion to keep overseas assistance flowing.

Exactly how was another question, and Senate sources said that would take some time to settle. There isn't much available, since the resolution under which the aid program and the agency that runs it are financed will expire in 15 days.

The White House said Sunday that Nixon rejects the idea of piecemeal appropriations for one or another of the aid programs included in the defeated bill.

Nixon and a key White House lobbyist, William Timmons, conferred during the weekend on strategy for persuading the Senate to temporarily extend the aid program at existing levels of funding.

If the temporary extension is approved, officials said, Nixon then plans to prepare and push for enactment of an entirely new aid program.

The new lobbying effort was mapped as some senators blamed administration "overlobbying" for the foreign aid defeat.

Fulbright said Sunday he foresees continuation of the more popular aid programs, although attempts to include military assistance could endanger any revival efforts.

The Arkansas Democrat said he does not believe any interim program would include funds "for the military domination of other countries."

Interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation," Fulbright did not rule out continuation of military aid to South Vietnam although he said such programs are "sticking points" threatening passage.

Girl Hostage, 2 Negotiators Freed

MANILA (AP) — A 14-yearold American girl, her uncle and a Filipino newsman were released unharmed today by a Filipino armed with a shotgun who had held the girl hostage for more than nine hours at her home.

After extended negotiations, the newsman had taken the girl, Susan Butler; her uncle, Stewart Raab, and the gunman to a nearby polo club where they boarded a helicopter owned by the Manila Times.

The helicopter took off, and the paper said a short while after the pilot radioed that he had let the gunman off in Zambales province, on the west coast north of Manila. The pilot said he returned to Manila with Susan and Raab.

Susan is the daughter of Charles R. Butler, a local businessman who is on a business trip in the United States.

Police said the gunman and an accomplice had entered the Butler home in fashionable Forbes Park early today, apparently to burglarize the house.

When Mrs. Butler went to a guest house to check on a maid who had been sent to turn on the air conditioner, she found the girl stabbed to death. One of the two intruders shot Mrs. Butler in the hip, police said.

Alerted by the commotion, police arrived at the house and found the dead maid and Mrs. Butler, who was taken to a hospital. Authorities said one man escaped as police were fired on from the house. The other man announced over an intercom system inside that he was holding Susan Butler hostage.

The gunman threatened to kill Susan and himself with his sawed-off shotgun unless police, who occupied the first floor, vacated the house. They did.

Then began a series of negotiations between the man, Raab, newsman Ruther Batuigas and authorities.

The gunman at first agreed to let the newsman and Raab drive him to a spot outside the city but later balked at releasing Susan. A stalemate developed, and police with automatic rifles moved back into the house.

Batuigas, who went back and forth between the gunman and authorities several times, reported the man was extremely nervous. He said the gunman, whose face was masked by a red bandanna with slits for the eyes and mouth, thrust the shotgun's muzzle into the newsman's stomach when he came too close.

The man told him he had escaped from a prison in Davao, in the southern Philippines.

After 9½ hours of talks, the gunman agreed to release the girl if given the equivalent of $2,000 and a helicopter flight to safety. The plan was for the uncle to turn over the cash once the craft was airborne.

Student Fast Set Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students in more than 700 colleges and 12,000 high schools will skip lunch Wednesday so some East Pakistani refugees in India will not go hungry.

"The students will handle the fast the way they want to on their own campuses or in their own high schools," said Cynthia Diggle, director of education for Oxfam-America, Inc., sponsors of the fast.

"If a student wants to, he can donate what he normally spends for lunch to the program," she said.

The money raised will help some of the 9 million people who fled from East Pakistan to India, Mrs. Diggle said.

Oxfam, Mrs. Diggle said, is "basically an international relief and development agency working in more than 30 developing countries—primarily in Asia, Africa and South America."

Although the fast has been used by Oxfam for a long time, this is the first time a largescale fast has bn planned in the United States by the 30year-old British-based organization, she said.

"It is, at this time, an American project," Mrs. Diggle said. "Other Oxfam groups in other countries have their own projects to aid the Pakistani refugees."

The student fast is co-sponsored by Project Relief of Providence, R.I.

"We really can't say at this point how much money we will raise," Mrs. Diggle said. "But we have emphasized to students that $1 would feed one refugee for about one month."

"War Of Worlds' Broadcast Stirs Emotions

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Despite advance billing, a radio station's localized version of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" touched off a flood of telephone calls to news media and law enforcement offices.

Buffalo police discribed public reaction to WKBW's program Halloween night as "nervousness" rather than the panic which met Orson Welles' fictional account of a Martian invasion of earth on Halloween Eve 33 years ago.

"One man ran up shouting to one of our cars, but he calmed down," a deputy in the Erie County sheriff's office said. He reported the office had received eight calls about the program.

Bruce Kaplan, the line disc jockey on duty at the station, said he was swamped with calls.

Buffalo police received some 100 calls and news media in Boston, Washington, New York, Rochester and Providence, R.I., also received inquiries.

In Detroit, a small FM station, WABX carried Welles' original version Sunday night and station spokesmen said they received only two calls, both favorable. Police said they got no queries. The station normally broadcast rock music.

An officer at the State Police barracks in Buffalo said 18 calls had been received there.

"About half the calls were from frightened women and the other half were from people angry at the station," he said.

The station had presented its version of the Wells classic on the past three Halloween nights and Sunday night's program was promoted with spot announcements throughout the preceding week, a station spokesman said.

Preceded by a five-minute explanation of the nature of the presentation, the program started shortly before 11 p.m. as a bogus news bulletin reporting a Martian landing at nearby Grand Island.

The voices of WKBW newsmen "reporting" from the scene by walkie-talkie were then woven into the dramatization. The account of the "invasion" was interspersed with announcements that it was only fantasy.

"We had been promoting the program all day—every 10 minutes—yet some guy called up during the broadcast and said, 'Hey, when you gonna have" "War of the Worlds?" Kaplan said.

"Then a girl said she was calling for her grandmother who wanted to know whether this was for real or another one of our crazy tricks."

Welles, then 23, spread panic across the nation in 1938 on Halloween Eve with a fictional account of a Martian landing in New Jersey.

Welles' program, which was also preceded by a statement saying the account was fantasy and interspersed with similar announcements, was aired on his Mercury Theater of the Air on CBS.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan doubled as a florist deliveryman, carrying a dozen long-stemmed roses to the wife of a Sacramento airman stationed in Vietnam.

"Hello, I'm Ronald Reagan. Your husband asked me to deliver these flowers to you and tell you that he loves you," the govenor told Mrs. Earl Huffman.

Ann Landers

Age Discrimination Not Fair To Older Women

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the 17-year-old who fantasized about his death in an automobile accident was one of the most blood-chilling but effective pieces of writing I have ever read. Thank you for printing it, Ann. Here is another bit of fantasy. If you think it has value, publish it because it is 95 per cent true. The only sentence that is an invention is the first one.

Dear17 and Too Young To Die: I am the old lady you chose to pass on the highway at the wrong moment. I would give anything if I could trade places with you. I am 67 and have known for some, time that I will die within a year from an incurable illness. I am able to function at present but is just a matter of time before I will be bed-ridden and then the agony of wasting away.

What a cruel trick of fate that a person who would welcome death is denied it while a young lad such as you....so full of the exuberance of life, with the whole world at his feet, should be snuffed out like a candle in the wind.

A word to the young and healthy, to those who have dreams and hopes: Savor each moment, enjoy what you have. Cherish every day. But be careful. Live not for the moment, but for the years ahead that can be yours.---Alaska

Dear Alaska: Thank you for a beautiful bit of philosophy. It will please you to know that the letter you wrote about will continue to be read by teen-agers all over the country. More than 100 high school editors asked for permission to reprint that letter in their school papers.

Dear Ann Landers: You are out of your corn-pickin' mind. Your advice to the woman over 40 who is a competent and experienced secretary but no 36-26-34 stank out loud. You suggested that she let her friends know she is looking for a job.

Don't you realize that the losers have no friends? The moment they lose---whether it's a job, a spouse, a child, or money-- they find out what it's like to be alone. It's the same the world over. There's a great flurry of attention --for four days. Then comes the well-worn phrase -- "If I can do anything just let me know." After that, it's a total fade-out and they are never heard from again.

If you're going to be an effective advisor you'd better pull off the rose-colored glasses and tell it like it is, Annie Baby. The 40-plus gal who wrote was giving you the straight story. Women over 40 ARE discriminated against in the job market and that's the god's truth. ---Another Texas Retread

Dear Texas: The cynical tone of your letter indicates that you've had some bitter experiences and I'm sorry. Yes, I know life isn't a bed of roses, but is isn't a garbage dump, either. People can be lousy, but they can be beautiful, too. Here's a letter which might help you -- and others.

Dear Ann: Did you know that in 1969 Congress passed the "Age Discrimination Employment Act?" The purpose: To promote employment on the basis of ability, not age. The existence of this federal statute and similar state laws is little known, even among attorneys. You could perform if they are discriminated against because of age. It's illegal. ---R.C. New Rochelle

Dear R.C.: Ann Landers learned something today ---and so did 54 million others. It was good of you to write. Thank you

POLLY'S POINTERS

Problem: How to Get Rid of Silverfish

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I would like to know how to get rid of silverfish. I want to use something that would not be poisonous to children. Also, I have a shower stall with a gray and white enamel floor that has turned white from water standing on it and would like to know how to remove this whiteness.—V. N.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with furniture manufacturers. Why do they put zippers on the backs of sofa and chair cushions? If they were put in the sides, the cushions would be completely reversible and the cording around the cushions would last longer.—MRS. F. L.

DEAR POLLY—I hope the following will help Mrs. C. L. N. remove the blood stains from her upholstered chair. To remove blood from any fabric I let it dry and then rub over the spots with a piece of cotton dampened with hydrogen peroxide. I find this does not spot some material that water does spot.—LEONA

DEAR POLLY—To remove blood stains from her upholstery Mrs. C. L. N. should make a thick paste with cornstarch and water. Spread this on the stain and a bit further out from it so it does not leave a ring when dry. When dry, remove with a vacuum. An old stain may need two applications.—MRS. A. McM.

DEAR GIRLS—The type of material on the chair will have a lot to do with the success of any remedy. Can yours take water? Often there is a layer of soil over the piece and the cleaned area (where the spot was) MAY be more conspicuous than the spot. First try ANY method on an inconspicuous spot and, if not satisfied with that, have it done professionally. This would be the safest anyway for an expensive piece of furniture.—POLLY

Hodges-Woodstock

EAST PRAIRIE-- Autumn hues of chrysanthemums arranged in wicker baskets provided the seasonal setting for the marriage of Miss Deborah Lee Woodstock and Gary Lee Hodges, which took place Oct. 24, at the First Christian Church. The couple exchanged vows in the presence of their families as the bride's father, Bro. Don Woodstock, minister of the First Christian Church, conducted the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length dress of ivory crepe overlaid with a jacket of scalloped lace. She was veiled in a mantilla of matching lace and carried a white Bible adorned with a single orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joe Helms a friend of the bride, while the groom chose his brother, Steve Hodges, to serve as best man. Appropriate organ selections were offered by Mrs. Howard Schneider.

Following the ceremoney a small reception for the family was held.

The new Mrs. Hodges is the daughter of Bro. and Mrs. Donald E. Woodstock of East Prairie. a 1970 graduate of East Prairie high school, she attended Southeast Missouri State college at Cape Girardeau. Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hodges, also of East Prairie, was of the 1970 East Prairie graduating class and also completed his freshman year at Southeast Missouri State College.

After a two-week trip to New Mexico, the couple will return to East Prairie to complete moving arrangements, as they will reside in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Emma Hodges, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. Preston Hodges, uncle of the groom, both of Sikeston; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cage Tourney At BCHS

BELL CITY - Basketball action continues to build in Southeast Missouri after the season opening tournament at Parma last week.

Junior varsity cage teams from eight schools are set to battle for the championship of the Bell City Cubs invitational title beginning tonight. Finals will be Saturday.

Scott-Mississippi league rivals, Scott Central and Delta, tip off the week's action at 7 p.m. Advance goes against Stoddard County rival Bell City at 8:30 p.m.

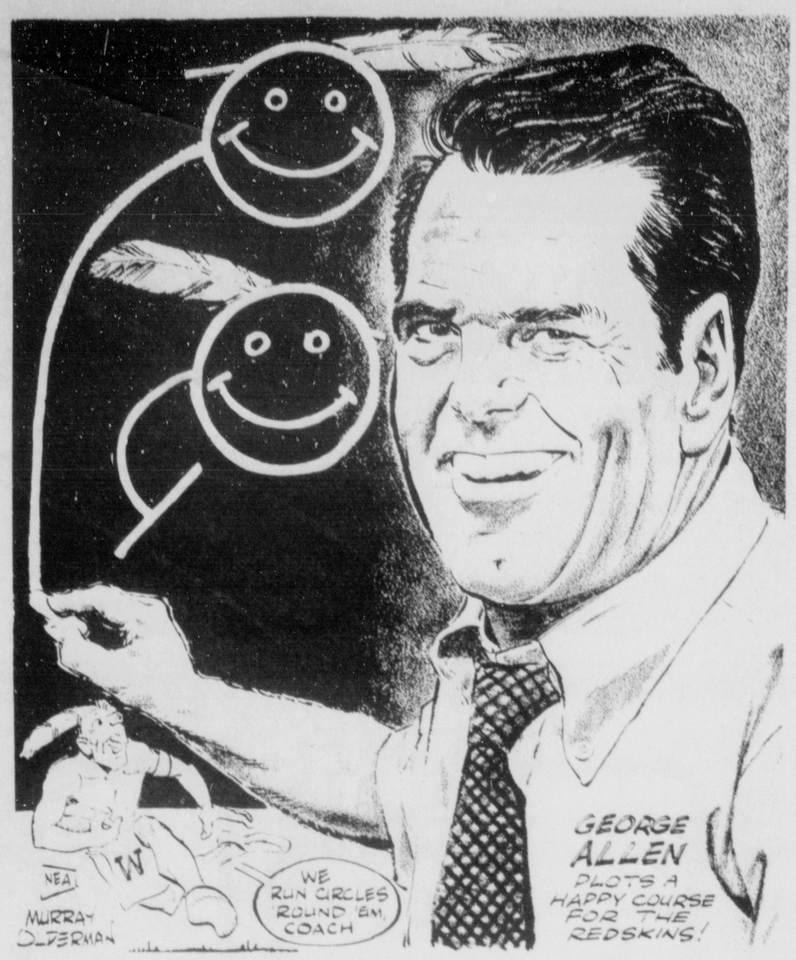
First round action ends Tuesday with Puxico battling Kelly at 7 p.m. and Oran meeting Bloomfield at 8:30 p.m.

This week's tournament will usher in a slim varsity schedule Friday night and then lead to a fairly large card of games next week.

Packer Power

Green Bay has won more league championships than any other team. The Packers have won 11 times, while second place Chicago Bears have taken eight titles.

HAPPINESS IS . . .



Bland a Resumes Miracles Work

The Oakland Raiders again are letting George do it—and 44-year-old George Blanda, the oldest player in pro football, is not letting them down, but keeping them up.

Blanda, whose amazing career started in 1949 and now is in its fourth decade, became the game's all-time leading scorer Sunday as he rallied the Raiders to a 20-20 tie with Kansas City and kept Oakland in a first-place tie with the Chiefs in the Western Division of the American Football Conference.

Blanda, who replaced starter Daryle Lamonica the last two times Oakland had the ball, fired a 24-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff, then kicked an eight-yard field goal with 2 1/2 minutes left.

The tying three-pointer and a previous field goal and two conversions gave Blanda a career total of 1,609 points, one more than former Cleveland kicker Lou Groza. Following the eightyard kick, the game was stopped and Blanda was presented with the football.

"These things just happen to you when you play 22 years," he said.

On Blanda's first play, he hit Ray Chester with a 37-yard strike, and defensive end Aaron Brown of the Chiefs said later "that first pass gave them lots of confidence ... George has done this so many times it works for them psychologically."

Two plays later, Blanda connected with Biletnikoff, who had outmanuevered young cornerback David Handley. Handley had replaced injured starter Jim Marsalis immediately before the play. "I'm sure George knew who we had in there," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram.

"George Blanda is a rare individual," said Oakland Coach John Madden. "The amazing thing is that he's throwing and kicking better than he did four years ago. We both came to this team the same year and I know he's stronger now than he was then. Don't ask me why. He doesn't have any secret formula that I know about."

The tie kept the Raiders and Chiefs deadlocked with 5-1-1 records.

Girls Basketball

By RON JAYNES

Girls basketball, which was approved by member schools and the board of directors of the Missouri State High School Activities Association in March, has 122 schools in the state registering for regional tournament action this season.

If you want to see the action in Southeast Missouri, you'll have to travel to Ste. Genevieve and catch the Valle high girls in action. That's the only team in the district to sign up for the first year program.

The majority of the teams are in West and North Missouri with eight schools in the St. Louis area joining with Valle as the only teams south of the Missouri river signed up.

"Most schools in Southeast and Central Missouri emphasize volleyball for the female's," noted Jack miles, assistant executive secretary of the MSHSAA. "It's a real big sport along the borders of Oklahoma and Iowa," Miles noted.

The sport in Oklahoma and Iowa, which has been one of the major factors in the state adopting it, outdraws the boys in attendance.

Tom Hoover, president of the Southeast Missouri Activities Association, which is comprised mostly of the larger schools in the area, has a three - man committee of Sherrill Summitt of Charleston, Bill Wilthong of Illmo - Scott City and Jim Orr of East Prairie studying the possibility of introducing the sport into the association schools.

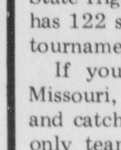
"Girls basketball was dropped a few years back in the larger schools,, due to lack of funds," Hoover commented. "Ten of 18 member schools wanted the study made," the Poplar Bluff administrator said.

"Presently Sikeston girls are involved in a club Volleyball and basketball program with Poplar Bluff and Cape Central," SHS principal Roger Sherman explained. "I think Charleston has been the only team that's really considered beginning the sport."

"Finances, needed for additional coaches and time for use of facilities has been the main problems facing most of the schools," an MSHSAA spokesman said.

A state champion will be crowned in the sport in 1973. All schools will compete in one class instead of three as in the boys athletic program.

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK



By Paul (Bear) Bryant
Head Coach, University of Alabama
Compliments of
Wal—Mart Discount Center

Near the end of the first half, your Oklahoma Sooners, leading Iowa State 21-14, have driven to the Cyclones' one-yard line. A hard rain has started to fall.

You have been successful with both ground and aerial attacks, running well off tackle and around end, and throwing to your running backs as well as to split receivers. If the ball is midway between sidelines, what play will you call here:

1. Field goal try?
2. Off tackle slant with back leading play?
3. Pass to your left half?
4. Sweep around end?

Answer

No. 1. Field goal is like kicking extra point. With rain falling, it's good to go to the half with a 10 point lead. Odds are that scoring will decline as field gets wet.

THIS IS THE KIND of picture Missouri duck hunters dream about all year — a flock of birds bursting off the water in front of the blind. Missouri's duck and goose season opens Oct. 31. Basic duck limit is four daily with eight in possession. In addition, there is a two-scaup daily bonus. Hunters may take no more than two wood ducks daily and no more than either one redhead or one canvasback.

Water Fowl Conditions Good

JEFFERSON CITY -- A two- inch rain in north Missouri on Oct. 19 improved water conditions for the Oct. 31 opening of the Missouri waterfowl season and the Department of Conservation expects a good opener.

There were 104,000 Canada geese in the Swan Lake zone, along with 16,000 blue and snow geese and 60,000 ducks -- mostly mixed baldpates, pintails and greenwing teal, with some mallards showing up.

This year, Missouri hunters can take four mallards daily for thefirst time since 1958. Basic duck limit is four daily and eight in possession, with a two - scaup bonus. Hunters may take only two wood ducks daily and either one canvasback or one redhead.

Squaw Creek, which has suffered from dry weather, has more than 100,000 blue and snow geese. Schell-Osage Wildlife Area and Duck Creek Wildlife Area in western and southern Missouri respectively report fair to good water conditions and ducks on the areas.

Swan Lake zone has a 14,000 Canada goose quota and, for the first time, a 10-shot limit on Canada geese, designed to reduce crippling losses.

Duck season is Oct. 31-Dec. 19. Blue and snow goose season is Oct. 31-Jan. 8. Swan Lake Canada goose quota is expected to be reached in 2-4 weeks after the Oct. 31 opening. Canada goose season in the Squaw Creek zone is Oct. 31-Nov. 29. The Lower Mississippi zone in southeast Missouri will have a Dec. 1-Jan. 23 goose season. The remainder of the State will have a 21-day Canada season, beginning Oct. 31.

Goose limits are five daily and in possession on blue and snow and no more than two whitefront. Swan Lake and Squaw Creek zones have a one Canada daily and two in possession limit. Lower Mississippi zone limit is two Canadas daily and four in possession; rest of state 1-2.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that new farm without delay might seem more practical if you considered the benefits of financing through the Federal Land Bank. Today's expensive land is easier to pay for when its cost is amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less with a Land Bank loan.

As your local Land Bank Association, we offer a complete loan service: We know current land values; we will inspect the property being considered. We will examine your overall plans and resources, and make an income projection. We will then make a loan recommendation that fits your needs precisely and, whenever possible, provide the capital it takes to meet your goals.

Collision Courses Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Nebraska and Oklahoma continuing their merry chase toward a Thanksgiving Day college football showdown, there has been a tendency to overlook Michigan, but the unbeaten Wolverines put a stop to that trend Saturday with a 61-7 rout of Indiana.

"Our goal is to go undefeated and win the Rose Bowl," said star runner Billy Taylor, who ripped the Indiana defenses for 172 yards and two touchdowns on only 11 carries, boosting his school record to 2,694 yards and coming within three of Tom Harmon's career mark of 33 touchdowns. "Then they will have to pick us No. 1. I think we're No. 1 right now."

The Wolverines currently are ranked third behind Nebraska and Oklahoma. Nebraska defeated ninth-rated Colorado 31-7 while Oklahoma overpowered Iowa State 43-12.

The top seven teams all maintained their perfect slates. Fourth-ranked Alabama trimmed Mississippi State 41-10, No. 5 Auburn downed Florida 40-7, sixth-rated Penn State took West Virginia 35-7 and Georgia, No. 7, stopped South Carolina 24-0, the third consecutive shutout turned in by the Bulldog defenders, who have permitted only 21 points in their last seven games.

The three other major unbeatens continued their winning ways, but two of them needed late field goals. Toledo, ranked 15th, upped the nation's longest winning streak to 31 games by trouncing Miami of Ohio 45-6, matching the 1948-50 Oklahoma teams for the second longest skein in modern times.

Cornell and Dartmouth, the Ivy League pacesetters, are heading for a Nov. 13 confrontation. Cornell's Ed Marinaro gained 272 yards, erasing the major college career rushing standard of Oklahoma's Steve Owens and passing the 4,000-yard barrier, but the Big Red needed John Killian's 37-yard field goal with five minutes left—after Marinaro carried the ball on nine consecutive plays—to edge Columbia 4-21. Dartmouth nipped Yale 17-15 on Ted Perry's 40-yard three-pointer with 53 seconds to play.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Arkansas suffered its second big upset, bowing to Texas A&M 17-9 behind Mark Green's two touchdowns and a defense that prevented the Razorbacks from establishing a running attack. Ohio State, ranked 10th, stopped Minnesota's Craig Curry inches short of the goal line on a disputed fourth-period two-point conversion attempt to preserve a 14-12 triumph over the Gophers.

The big news elsewhere ranged from the sublime to the tragic. Eric Allen of Michigan State set a major college record by rambling for 350 yards (he carried 29 times and scored four touchdowns) in a 43-10 rout of Purdue. Coach Jim Pittman of Texas Christian collapsed and died during his team's game with Baylor. The players, informed at halftime that Pittman was dead, rallied to defeat the Bears 34-27.

Michigan's Bo Schembechler apologized for running up 61 points on hapless Indiana. "I didn't think we would win this way," he said, "and I didn't want to. I would have liked a closer game. The coach at Indiana is one of my best friends and I didn't want to beat John (Pont) that way.

"John was not only my teammate, but my roommate at Miami of Ohio," Schembechler recalled. "He was the greatest player in Miami history. They retired his number. He's a great competitor and a class guy. I wish I have as much class as John Pont if I ever get beaten this badly."

Nebraska combined a rugged defense and Jerry Tagge's pinpoint passing to defeat Colorado, which Coach Bob Devaney called "the finest team we've played yet."

Colorado's Eddie Crowder called Nebraska "a magnificent football team," but declined to predict the outcome of the Cornhuskers' game with Oklahoma. He did say it would take "a really super game" to beat Nebraska.

Ken Johnson, the Colorado quarterback, said: "Nebraska's got the better defense, but I think Oklahoma has got the better offense. It's gonna be unreal."

For the record, Oklahoma defeated Colorado 45-17.

The Sooners rolled up 504 yards on the ground in beating Iowa State. Quarterback Jack Mildren passed for 175 yards—that's right, Oklahoma threw the ball—and two touchdowns and ran for 148 and two more scores.

"You could prepare four different game plans and they could find another way to beat you," said Coach Johnny Majors of the losers.

Alabama pulled away from Mississippi State with 24 points in the final period as Bear Bryant tied Jess Neely for fourth place on the all-time coaching list with 207 victories. Auburn also broke loose after being held to a 12-7 halftime lead and swamped Florida with Pat Sullivan and Terry Beasley teaming up on two scoring strikes.

Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris led Penn State's 250-yard ground game against West Virginia, with Mitchell scoring twice and Harris once. Hometown boy James Ray came off the bench and sparked Georgia over South Carolina at Columbia, S.C., by scoring on runs of one and 84 yards.

Tennessee, ranked 16th, swamped Tulsa 38-3, No. 17 Stanford overtook Oregon State 31-24, Houston turned back No. 19 Florida State 14-7 and No. 20 Southern Cal blanked California 28-0.

Baseball Realignment Proposed By Boston GM

BOSTON (AP) — ice President and General Manager Dick O'Connell of the Boston Red Sox had a startling proposal for re-alignment of baseball into three divisions today as general managers began a four-day huddle at Ponta Verda Beach, Fla.

"We would have the East, Midwest and West, O'Connell told baseball writer Fred Ciampa of the Record American-Sunday Advertiser before heading South.

"Leagues of eight teams would provide the best possible scheduling," O'Connell said. "We'd go from the 162 games back to the 154 games and all the teams would be in the same time zone.

"This would be better all around. It would be a boon to the news media as well as the players. The way it is now, when eastern teams play in the far west, the newspapers, radio and television stations get tha results very late. And as a result, a lot of local fans don't get the news until the next day."

O'Connell also noted that scheduling wold be much easier.

"When we're making up our schedules," we're looking for a Utopia, but that's not possible because of the difference in weather and the difference in time zones," he said.

"The West Division teams come to Boston only twice a year and if you get rain it's a job making up the dates. The same thing applies to any interleague scheduling."

O'Connell stresses he is against an interleague schedule. He also said he disliked the playoff system, requiring a team to "win over the course of a long season" and then play for the right to get into the World Series.

Under O'Connell's plan, the three divisions would be:

East—Boston, New York Yankees, New York Mets, Pittsburgh, Montreal, Detroit, Baltimore, and Philadelphia.

Midwest—Milwaukee, the Chicago White Sox and Cubs, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Cleveland and Minnesota.

West—Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Oakland, Kansas City, Houston, and Dallas-Fort Worth.

Defensive Theory

Paul Wiggin, former Cleveland Brown standout and now an assistant coach of the San Francisco 49ers, comments on defensive line play: "A defensive lineman these days has to be able to cover the field from sideline to sideline. It has become a game of activity rather than just size and brute strength. Those people who think that size is the dominant factor are living in the past. Mobility and strength are the keys now."

DODGE LEADS WITH ITS STRENGTH.

Polara/Monaco—the all-new look of '72 at familiar '71 prices.

ALL-NEW STYLING... SAME OLD PRICES.

In a year when most new cars look a lot like last year's, Dodge Polara and Monaco do not. They've been restyled for '72. The emphasis in the design of these new cars has been on strength, solidity, and silence. Their strong, expressive styling achieves an attitude of distinction with clean, fresh lines. And while the styling is all new, the prices of the '72 Polara and Monaco, and all Dodges, will remain the same as those offered on comparably equipped 1971 models. Prices may never be lower.

1972 DODGE MONACO Designed for the man who wants excellence without extravagance. The restyled 1972 Monaco has a look that sets it apart from the rest of the medium-priced field . . . like smooth lines, hidden headlights, and a streak of protective side moulding. It's equipped with the features you'd expect in a car as distinguished as Dodge Monaco. The new 360 two-barrel V8 engine, precise power steering, power front disc brakes, and Dodge's famous, smooth TorqueFlite automatic transmission are all standard.

1972 DODGE POLARA Dodge builds the Polara with a little extra size and riding comfort, and at the lowest possible price. You get such easygoing features as power steering, TorqueFlite automatic transmission, and a powerful, yet economical, 318 V8 engine standard.

Ten Miles Of Streets Surfaced In Three Years

NEW MADRID — About 50 blocks of New Madrid streets have been paved in the past three years, according to City Administrator Russell Ellis and about 13 more blocks are now in the process of being surfaced in a project of the New Madrid board of aldermen that has brought streets of the city from very bad to very good condition.

Total of the work of surfacing streets, including that done by promoters of subdivisions is probably ten miles, Ellis said. The work started in 1969 and has run through summers of 1970 and 1971.

In that first year Mill and Davis streets from Highway 61 east to Crisler were curbed and guttered with concrete and paved with a soil cement base covered with asphaltic pavement and the same type construction has been done on most of the streets resurfaced in the three-year period. At the same time Crisler from Mott north to Scott was surfaced.

In the following year, Mill Street was surfaced with the curbs and gutters and asphaltic paving from Crisler east to Church and Church was paved from Davis south to Mill.

In 1970, too, Davis from Crisler east to Powell, which was already curbed, guttered and paved, received a chip and seal protective coat, and Main, also curbed and guttered, receiving a coating of asphaltic pavement from Virginia north to Route U.

During that same summer, Mott was curbed, guttered and surfaced from Crisler east to Powell and Capital from Mott north to Scott received similar improvement.

Work on seven streets has been completed so far this year and is in progress on five others currently.

Curbed, guttered and surfaced with asphaltic pavement so far this year have been Water from Church east to Line, Line from Water north to Riley, Virginia from Main east to Russell, Mill east from Main to Russell, Mott from the alley east of Main east to Line, Powell from Water north to Mill, and Ramsey Lane and Pinnell Lane in Westacres west of Highway 61 in the northwest of Highway 61 in the northwest section of the city.

Presently under contract and being worked on in various stages are Mitchell north from Riley to Route U (Dawson Road), Digges from Riley north and west to Mitchell, Pinnell from Main west to Mitchell, Church from Water north to Mill, and Kingshighway from Scott north to Pinnell.

In the meantime the State Highway Department has put an asphaltic coat on Highway 61, part of which runs through New Madrid's west side, and has widened Scott Street from Highway 61 east to Crisler. Scott from Crisler through to Main is concrete with curb and gutter.

Waters and Associates of Sikeston have been engineers for the street work in the past two years and prior to that a St. Louis engineering firm planned the work for New Madrid's streets.

The John Cowan Company has prepared streets and laid curbs and gutters this year and in the other two years, the firm of Cowan and Holman did that part of the street construction. The soil cement bases and asphaltic paving has been done by McMullin Construction Company of Sikeston.

A several block stretch of curb, gutter and asphaltic pavement has also been laid as the first street in the Westacres Subdivision, that work having been done at the expense of the subdivision. Asphaltic and concrete streets have also been laid in two other subdivisions in recent years — the Baynes and the St. Jude.

Costs of the streets in New Madrid have run from a low of $4.61 per front foot to $7.49, depending on the engineering and preparation problems, and those costs have been borne by the owners of property on the affected sreets.

Clarification Of Insurance Program Asked

MALDEN — The City Council Monday night asked City Attorney Gordon Fritz to clarify the ordinance governing health insurance for officers and employees of the City of Malden.

Several members of the Council said that the ordinance is not clear and that there is a possibility some elected officials of the city are receiving coverage to which they are not entitled.

The ordinance, which was passed in 1963, is somewhat vague as to who is eligible and who isn't. It specifies that those eligible for coverage are officers and full time employees of the city. The city will pay not less than 50 per cent of the coverage for the individual.

The word "officers" is the stickler. Council members want to know if this means all elected officials and appointed officials of the city are eligible for the insurance paid for by the city.

As of now several elected city officials are covered under the insurance plan. They include Mayor Sparrel Davis, Chief of Police D. W. McMillian, Police Judge Ralph Stropp, City Collector Joann McCurter and Councilman Mart Bostic. Bostic says he is paying 100 per cent of his family coverage which is $138.12 every quarter. It is not known how much the others are paying. Individual coverage is about $52 every quarter.

City Attorney Gordon Fritz told the Press - Merit that in his opinion the best solution to the problem is a new ordinance which would spell out in detail as to who is eligible and who isn't. He said that the word officers in the present ordinance could be interpreted to mean any elected or appointed official of the city. This could become an even more costly item to the city if appointed officers of the Board of Public Works, Airport Commission, Housing Authority, Park Board, etc. were added to the insurance rolls.

Fritz says that in his opinion the intent of the ordinance is meant to cover only full time employees and full time elected officials. He said that the only full time elected official is the chief of police. Other elected officials serve only in a part time capacity.

However, he says that the present wording can be interpreted several different ways and should be clarified. Fritz indicated that he would recommend to the council that they either amend or prepare a new ordinance.

The Council met Monday night without Mayor Sparrel Davis and Mayor Pro Tem Mart Bostic .. Phil Santie served as temporary chairman.

Applications for city merchants licenses were discussed and specific reference was made in regard to merchants who have not provided a sales tax report as requested. The matter was tabled until after the deadline to purchase a license which is Dec. 31.

A four -way stop sign was authorized to be installed at the intersection of Indiana Street and Second Avenue.

Chief of Police Woody McMillian reported that car number ten has gone bad. The Council asked City Clerk Roscoe Thornton to check with Councilman Mart Bostic to see if there is a guarantee on the engine.

Frank Cowell, atreet commissioner, was authorized to purchase 50 tons of chat to mix black top before cold weather.

Government Publishes Name Brand's List

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an effort to share its shopping knowledge with consumers, the government has prepared a list by brand name of 350 items it buys.

But the General Services Administration, which does most of the buying, says the list may be of only limited use to the average consumer.

"We are anxious to share what information we have," says GSA Administrator Robert L. Kunzig. "But as we have repeatedly stressed, we don't have the comparative brand test data that some people think we have."

Besides listing the products it buys, the government said it is providing consumers with a description of the qualities it demands in each product.

The list, being offered free through the GSA in Washington and 27 federal information centers in major cities around the country, includes a wide variety of common household items such as toothpaste, lightbulbs, laundry detergents and appliances.

It also includes such things as spark plus, tires, tools, floor tile, paint, adhesives, pencils, lawn mowers and antifreeze.

1—In Memoriam

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband, Leon Swinney, who passed away November 6, 1970.
I often sit and think of you,
And then of how you died;
To think you could not say good-by
Before you closed your eyes.
Our hearts still ache at losing you,
We still can't believe it's true.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought your death was so near;
But only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Perhaps its just as well,
We never could have said good-bye
To the Dad we loved so well.
Darling, life has no meaning without you,
I miss you night and day;
Whether I'm at home, or far away,
So, I'll do God's will and travel on,
Until I meet you some sweet day.
Sadly missed by wife, Tillie Swinney and children.

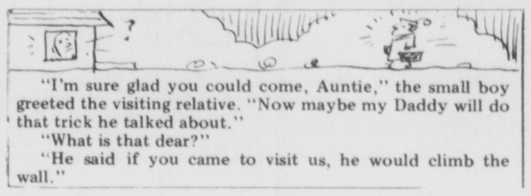
USES POINT SYSTEM

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky reclamation officials have a point system to grade coal operators on how well they reclaim strip-mined land.



"I'm sure glad you could come, Auntie," the small boy greeted the visiting relative. "Now maybe my Daddy will do that trick he talked about."

"What is that dear?"

"He said if you came to visit us, he would climb the wall."

FIRST CLASS GRADUATES FROM NEW PATROL ACADEMY

JEFFERSON CITY -- The life of a state Highway Patrol recruit isn't an easy one. The 39 members of the recruit-training class that graduated October 15 had to meet the patrol's stiff physical and mental requirements and complete six months of rigorous training involving more than 1,000 work-hours.

But it isn't exactly like getting poked in the eye with a sharp stick, either. During training the recruits went to class in carpeted classrooms, ate in a sparkling new cafeteria, and slept in color - coordinated dormitory rooms.

The class was the first to be trained at the new Highway Patrol Law Enforcement Academy in Jefferson City. Completed in May, the $2.5 million complex is a self - contained community including a dormitory, gymnasium and classroom building. The dormitory can sleep 120 men, and most of the classrooms are arranged for 40 students. The cafeteria can easily accomodate all the students, and there also are game rooms, a post office, snack bar and laundry.

More than 2,000 state law enforcement personnel are expected to use the academy during the coming year for a variety of training programs.

"We couldn't be happier with the facilitiess," Lt. J. H. Dickson, the patrol's training officer, says. "You might find bigger law enforcement training facilities, but you won't find better in the country."

Emphasis at the academy is on training, and the classrooms include the latest teaching tools. For example, two classrooms include a multi-media device that permits the instructor, at the flip of a switch, to incorporate tapes, movies and slides into his lecture. The process can be automated and an entire lecture, illustrated with movies and slides, can be given without an instructor in the room. The lights even dim automatically when the movie starts.

The classrooms also have a device for immediate testing of the students. At each desk is a panel with three buttons. The instructor can ask a question with three possible answers and when a student pushes the button corresponding to his answer, a light will indicate if he is correct. The instructor has a master panel in front of him which tells him immediately which students got the correct answer.

"These devices have greatly improved our teaching technique," Lt. Dickson says. "The multi-media possibility enables us to involve the student more, and because he might be tested at any time, he pays more attention to the lecture."

Additionally, the classrooms have been equipped to use videotape recordings, and there is even a small television studio so academy personnel can make their own tapes.

Physical fitness also is emphasized at the academy. There is a fully equiipped gymnasium with facilities for basketball, volleyball, gymnastics and boxing, and a sauna bath for those who need to swear off a few pounds.

The swimming pool is called a "training tank". "Some of our recruits don't know how to swim," Lt. Dickson explains, "so we teach them. All recruits get water safety instruction, a very important part of our training program."

For weapons training, the academy has an armory, weapons cleaning facilities, and a fully automated pistol range.

"The important point about our facilities is that they're not only for the Highway Patrol, but for all the state's law enforcement agencies. Police departments, sheriff's departments and liquor control, boat commission and campus security personnel all may use them," Lt. Dickson emphasizes.

During the 1971 fiscal year the academy will offer more than 20 courses in police training which will be open to agencies other than the Highway Patrol. The training is state supported and is offered at no cost to the officer or agency except for transportation to and from the academy.

Courses include narcotics, accident investigation, traffic management, radio communications, Breathalyzer and basic and advanced police training. The instructors come from both the Highway Patrol staff and the participating agencies.

Goeppinger Wants Action on Dock Strike

BOONE, Iowa (AP) — Walter Goeppinger, president of the National Corn Growers Association, wants President Nixon to take immediate action to end the dock strike at major ports.

In a telegram Wednesday night to Mr. Nixon, Goeppinger pointed out that "Corn storage facilities at many points in the Cornbelt are full and much of the balance of the corn crop now cannot be harvested due to lack of a place to put it.

"Now our grain ports are closed by strikes and corn prices reduced due to a market glut and log jam that cannot be broken until the strike is settled," he wrote.

The farm organization chief pointed out that "This is the first time in 10 years that the Taft-Hartley law has not been invoked by the President when strikes have occurred at ports during harvest. Every day of the strike is a permanently lost market for corn farmers and foreign exchange dollars lost to the United States."

Goeppinger declared "It is high time that you correct the situation and do it immediately."

Goeppinger told The Associated Press "in most cases farmers will just stop harvesting" if the dock strike does not end soon.

"Elevators are full," he noted. "There is a limited market to ship it—corn—to."

He said some farmers "on the marginal edge will be liquidated ... and may not be able to stay in farming next year."

What's The Law

Pop Wants To Visit Child

THE CASE OF THE DEPRIVED FATHER

Unmarried, Esther and Pete lived together for several years as bohemians, not knowing where their next bath was coming from nor caring. Esther gave birth to a bouncing baby boy and, deciding the bohemian way of life offered no future for her son, she bounced back home to mother and refused to allow Pete to see their son. Dismayed, Pete started a legal proceeding to obtain visitation rights.

"He's my son, I love him and I'm entitled to see him," he argued in court. "And, because Esther has decided to change her style of living should be no bar. Her conscience can't be my guide."

"Since the child's illegitimate," was Esther's response, "Pete has no right to see him. Besides, it's bad enough he's illegitimate without having to associate with illegitimate people. A boy should be brought up gracefully and not disgracefully."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit deprived Pete to see his son?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that although Esther and Pete never chose to marry, their son was the product of their "family" relationship and not the result of a rape or other forceful conduct. As a general proposition, a child is entitled to the love and affection of both parents when available. And, in this case, concluded the judge in effect, Pete is desirous of providing same and consequently, despite the illegitimacy of the child, and because it's in the best interests if the child, he should be allowed to see him.
